Point Out to Senate Committee That Proposition Would Mean Free Trade in West and Protection in East—Former Wisconsin Lieutenant-Governor Explodes Paper Famine Bugaboo.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Hearings on the McCall bill to carry out the provisions of the Canadian reciprocity agreement were begun today by the Senate Committee on Finance.

During the forenoon the only witness was John Strang, of Neenah, Wis., a paper manufacturer, and former Lieutenant-Governor of his State. Mr. Strang opposed the bill in vigorous language, charging that false sentiment in favor of it had been manufactured by a league of newspapers which he believed to be in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Constant difficulty was experienced by Senators Lodge, Cullem, Flint and Stone in keeping Mr. Strang to his subject, and obtaining from him reasons why the agreement should not be confirmed. Several times Senator Lodge sharply demanded something other than attacks on the motives of newspapers in their demands for cheaper paper.

John Norris, chairman of the paper committee of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, was an interested listener to Mr. Strang's testimony. He said that later he would have something to say.

Strang's argument.

Sifted of its attacks upon newspapers and other organizations which favor the agreement, Mr. Strang's statement contained the following arguments:

That this country has no more need for Canadian pulp wood than it has for Canadian disease germs; that paper is not necessary to paper making, as any wood which has a fibre will suffice and there are many woods which are better than spruce; that the first of the Northwest make excellent paper and that there is nothing better than the soft woods of the South.

In connection with his statement about timber of the South, Mr. Strang said if the Democrats knew what they were about they would take such action as would make them the future paper makers of the country.

Mr. Strang declared that Wisconsin, Minnesota and West Virginia in twenty years would be growing enough timber for all the needs of the country and that paper making was just a vocation in the South through the utilization of timber land for lumber.

These statements were brought out chiefly by questions from Senator Hale, whose evident purpose was to show that Canadian timber for paper making was not needed in this country; that there was sufficient standing timber for immediate needs, with conservation already taking due care for the future.

"FOUNDED BY THE PRESS."

Senator Hale referred to "founding by the press," and asked if there was not a great deal of apprehension because of the attitude of the newspapers.

Mr. Strang said that was true and launched into a criticism of newspaper motives which he declared were reported to for purposes of intimidation. His arguments, he said, were a conservative mass of common sense.

ENABLING BILL BADLY AMENDED.

Unite Domination of Fair Funds Possible.

San Francisco "Bosses" Fix Measure to Suit.

His Commission Left to Lay Down Regulations.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Panama Pacific Enabling Act, giving the exposition $5,000,000, voted by the taxpayers of the State, will be amended in part as the South have asked. The amendment, however, is insufficient in a large way to meet the situation at San Francisco, and is not responsive to the desire of the South, as expressed in the association of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association, transmitted here two weeks ago by President Taft.

In that resolution it was asked that the fair bill be supported by the South "only with the understanding that in the employment of labor or the use of materials in connection with same (the fair) no discrimination shall be made between union and non-union mechanics or materials bearing the union label or not."

When an amendment of this character was presented to the San Francisco and the Governor, it was rejected promptly. The exposition management would not hear of it. The San Francisco members of the fair bill, however, have been made as to who will succeed this officer.

WHAT "UNION" LABOR COSTS.

Building Inspector Backus of Los Angeles Leaves Interesting Figures With State Legislature.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Building Inspector Backus of Los Angeles has made a practical calculation of the effect of the Plan plumbing inspection bill on the cost of building in the large cities.

The written report of the study has been left with Los Angeles members, who will oppose the measure in the Assembly. A part of this report shows what a labor union bid is to cost the home builders in the future.

"Under this bill it will be impossible for any contractor to get a license from the State board to do any plumbing work or even lay ordinary sewer pipe from such plumbing work to the street sewer unless said person be a working man under said license. The result of this would be an enormous increase in the cost of such sewer work for the reason that where such work is now done by contract it would cost $2.50 per day, the licensed plumber doing this work would charge from $4.50 to $5 per day, thus doubling the cost of labor."

Based upon the building operations in the cities of San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland and San Diego for 1910, the number being in each city about as follows: San Francisco 3,000 buildings, Los Angeles 10,000 buildings, Oakland 6,000 buildings and San Diego 2,000 buildings, making a total of 32,000 buildings erected in these four cities during the past year, requiring an average of twenty-five feet of sewer pipe for each building, at a cost of thirty cents per linear foot, this would amount to $2,500 per building, making a total for the 32,000 buildings erected of $80,000. Assuming that ten cents per foot of this was for materials and twenty cents for labor, the amount for labor would then be $40,000. Therefore, on account of the licensed plumber doing this work at double the wages of common labor the increase to the property owners for the same amount of work would be $80,000.

Experts Sail Saturday From San Diego to Study Deep-Sea Life Off Lower California.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The American Museum of Natural History, announced tonight, that by special arrangement with the United States Bureau of Fisheries, an expedition of museum experts would sail on the steamer Albatross from San Diego, Cal., next Saturday to inspect the Coast of Lower California.

Deep sea dredging to the depth of two and a half miles will be undertaken and for the first time mounds of the large types of deep sea life will be made while the specimens are fresh.

The heart of the expedition, Secretary MacVeach, intended to make the issue a popular one. Treasury officials interpret the demand in some parts of the country for a system of bank deposit guarantees and the response to the establishment of the postal savings system as indicating a popular demand for government securities for investment, such as would be presented by bonds available to the public.

Secretary MacVeach believes that this can be accomplished only by withholding from future issues the circulation privilege which has tended to keep United States bonds in the hands of the banks.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—An issue of $20,000,000 to $20,000,000 of 3 per cent. Panama bonds seems certain as soon as Congress passes the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to withhold the new securities from use as a basis for additional national bank notes.

In the event that the present opposition to the legislation affecting the bonds should prevent its passage, an issue of 3 per cent. certificates of indebtedness having one year to run, is probable. That is the treasury's tentative plan now.

In view of the sale of about $100,000,000 industrial improvement bonds in January and the prediction that about $200,000,000 more will find their way to market in the next few months, treasury officials agree that this a propitious time for an issue of government securities.

seemed to be a complete answer, both in logic and in eloquence. To him it is merely another phase of the problem of self-government, of getting the government back to the people. Exulting, anxious to force a vote without adjournment, and feeling victory in the air, talked off fifteen minutes, making an effective appeal not to poison the bill "Borgia-like" with the amendments, but to kill it or pass it as it stood. Other speeches were made by Larkin and Avey, for the measure, and by Hunt, against it, but they were unheeded.

After the wine cork rolled over the anti-saloon lobby, Dr. Ervin S. Chapman of Los Angeles, the venerable fighter of King Rum, who sat with Senator Gates, laughed and said: "Well, we can come back, anyhow. I'm going home."

Dr. Chapman says the option question will haunt "progressive" politics from now until the I-R-I is established and the next election held.

NEW STATE TREASURER. OFFICE CHANGES HANDS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Over $400,000 changed hands at the State Treasury in the Capitol today, when Former State Treasurer W. R. Williams turned over the funds on hand to his successor, E. D. Roberts of San Bernardino. It took some little time to count the money, but the transaction was all completed before the State Treasurer Roberts is now in full possession of the office and the finances of the State. The exact amount turned over was $472,741.50. State Treasurer Roberts stated that but one important change has been made in the office personnel thus far. Herbert W. Johnson, a Los Angeles banker, has succeeded Frank O. Chamer, book-keeper, who resigns to accept a position under the former State Treasurer in his new position. Herbert P. Reese, deputy in the department, will remain in practically the same position. One other position remains to be filled, that of a man to succeed Charles M. Noyes, deputy, but no announcement has been made as to who will succeed this officer.

VANCOUVER (Wash.) Feb. 20.—
[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Daisy Davis, 21 years old, pretty, and formerly a Methodist worker at a Chinese mission in Portland, came to Vancouver today with Toy Non, also known as Harry Toy, wealthy Chinese merchant of Pong Angeles, Wash., and the two obtained a license to wed.
The couple were accompanied by Miss Cecil M. Hirsch, a girl of about Miss Davis's age, who acted as witness.
They also took with them Harry Cross,
a local attorney, who has lately specialized in aiding Chinese to overcome legal obstacles against their marrying white girls. Cross's services in this case were not required, as the County Auditor readily issued the license.

"I became acquainted with Harry in the Methodist Chinese mission in Portland several years ago," said Miss Davis. "and I would rather marry him than any other man. He is wealthy, but I am not marrying him for his wealth. He has given me jewels worth $1000 and has bought me a splendid trousseau."
Miss Davis's hands were covered with rings, mostly diamonds, in apparent confirmation of her statement regarding the gifts, and she was richly dressed.

It is the couple's intention to be married at Seattle, Wednesday by a Methodist minister, they said. They were tendered a banquet by Portland Chinese last night.

Toy has been in America ten years and has cut his queue and adopted American dress.

DEVICE NABS MILK THIEF.

San Francisco Invents Trap That

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If you want to catch the milk thief who makes a practice of gathering your milk before you get up in the morning, you should consult Eily Blank of No. 668 Union street.

She was annoyed by a milk thief and decided to put a stop to the theft. She arranged a contrivance that would sound an alarm at his bed every time the milk supply on the doorstep was touched by hands other than those of the milkman, and the other morning the milk thief dropped brought him out of his bed on the jump.

Clad only in his pajamas, Blank rushed to the front door and was in time to capture Victor Valenlechi. Victor had gathered so many cans of milk and so many leaves of bread from other doorsteps that he could not get away in a hurry, and Blank held him and his loot until the police arrived.

With twenty-four boxes of stolen bread and six quarts of lifted milk as evidence of his guilt, Victor was arrested and taken to the police station.
The magistrate put the case over and instructed Blank to be in court with his third-taking device that all milk thieves learn how it is manufactured.

and the State of Nevada, to do all in their power to apprehend the guilty murderers, who are supposed to be in Indiana.

OREGON'S REFORM LEGISLATURE
PUTS CRIMP IN STATE'S FUNDS

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALEM (Or.) Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The most extravagant Legislature in the history of Oregon and the least prolific of needed small increases of salaries of district and State officers, and some miscellaneous small items which will probably add $200,000 or $300,000 to the grand total when it is finally completed.

All of the State institutions fared well and the University of Oregon and Agricultural College fared better than ever before. The former received $200,- 252 and the latter $410,000, aside from the continuing appropriations.

For these enormous expenditures the Legislature has given to the people a public service commission, a flat salary for the State Printer, some allotted good roads legislation of doubtful value and nothing else.

Relatives Clash Over Dead
Woman's Estate.

Brother, Uncle and Second Husband Involved.

Court Rebukes Spouse for His Precipitate Action.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Coffey today denounced Maxwell McNutt for sending police to Mrs. Maud Marie Treadwell's home and interfering with her funeral. McNutt was the woman's second husband and he claimed he invoked the aid of the police to try to get possession of Mrs. Treadwell's child, of which he was the father.

While the body lay in the undertaking parlors, the first step in a fight to be waged over the woman's $110,000 estate was taken.

Ivan G. Treadwell, her brother, when court opened, presented a petition for his appointment as special administrator of the estate. This was immediately followed by a similar petition on the part of Public Administrator Hynes, acting on request of C. F. Summers of Columbia, an uncle of the decedent, who arrived here today.

At the same time Eugene Sullivan, who for years has been business agent for Mrs. Treadwell, informed the court that five days ago the decedent told him she was about to draw a will, in which she intended to name him executor of the estate and guardian of her child, Allen G. McNutt, by her second husband, now, Assistant District Attorney Maxwell McNutt. Sullivan wished that until the will be found the public administrator take charge of the estate.

Judge Coffey made an order that Ivan Treadwell take charge of the estate until some better showing was made by the woman's other relations.
This was strongly opposed by Summers, who showed by letters that Mrs.
Treadwell was about to bring a suit against her brother Ivan for $50,000 when death came, but Judge Coffey refused to change his order.

PLENTY DAMP IN NEW MEXICO.

Heavy Snows and Rains of Past Week Assure Unparalleled Good Season for Coming Summer.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Feb. 20.— Coming on the heels of two seasons of drought and a winter that has been the driest in sixteen years, the snow and rain of last week throughout the whole of New Mexico means an unparalleled good season for the coming summer.

It is still snowing today west and southwest of here. Bernalillo, Grant, Guadalupe and Sierra counties are thoroughly soaked.

The mountains and high ranges are all covered with from one to three feet of snow. The snow is general over Northern Arizona, with rain in the southern part, assuring a good season in that territory. Dry farmers who were driven out by the drought are beginning to come back.

UNSEASONABLE ALASKA RAINS.

Three Days' Continuous Downpour at Cordova Causes Fear of Early Glacial Movements.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
CORDOVA (Alaska) Feb. 20.—One of the worst storms ever experienced in Cordova and the Copper River Valley ended yesterday, after three days of continuous rain and a wind reaching a velocity of eighty miles an hour. For 200 miles inland rain fell in torrents making weather conditions seldom if ever worse at this season. Snow melting on the mountain sides caused severe slides, which took the railroad running up the Copper River several days to clear away. The river is bank full and it is feared that the unusual weather conditions will start the glaciers moving long before the Alaska winter is ended.

Recognition Bill Killed.
SALEM (Or.) Feb. 20.—The Oregon Legislature adjourned without passing the bill to prohibit marriages between whites and Asians. In the closing hours of the session on Saturday night an effort was made to pass the measure through to final passage but the Senate shelved it.

SENATE POULTRY ASSOCIATION.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 20.—Officials of the local poultry association have determined upon the organization of a Pacific Coast Poultry Association, an object of which will be the finest exhibition of fowls at the Panama-Pacific Exposition that has ever been seen in the United States. Prominent poultry men will meet in this city the second of next month to get the project under way.

Gas Explodes in Hotel.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—Leaking gas caused a destructive explosion at an early hour today at the Parkview Hotel, near the western boundary of the city. Joseph Reichel, the proprietor, received probably fatal injuries. Lodgers at the hotel fled in their night gar-

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
HELENA (Mont.) Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because of her return to Helena without her husband, Mrs.
Alvin O'Brien, only daughter of Thomas Cruse, the multi-millionaire, is responsible for one of the city's greatest sensation. Miss Cruse two years ago became enamored of a Helena youth and tried to elope with him. The romance was stopped by the police.

She was sent to New York, where she met young O'Brien, the son of a prominent family, and later their marriage was solemnized in St. Paul. They went to New York, but after a short time, reports reaching here of midnight carousals and the like, the same experience was undergone here.

Col. Cruse, ordered O'Brien to leave his house and told his daughter that she must choose between her husband and her father's millions. Report has it that she then attempted suicide. At any rate, she departed for New York with her husband.

It was later reported that she was planning away and Col. Cruse was pleased. Her husband came with her as far as Chicago. Friends of the family there have been a separation.

The young woman is quite sick and was accompanied by a doctor, a nurse, and an uncle.

California Pledged Railroad Bonds to Secure Furniture Bill Which He Failed to Meet in Fall.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW ORLEANS (La.) Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to the latest developments in the divorce proceedings between "Col." William B.
Hayes of California, and his beautiful young wife, Vivian Mitchell Hayes, the "Colonel" is not the pauper he pictures himself.

It developed today that Hayes had pledged the bonds to secure a furniture bill. He deposited with the Mazon Blanche seventy-one coupons drawing $20 each, of bonds of the Rock Island Railroad Company, the identical bonds which "Col." Hayes made Mrs. Hayes a present before they were married, thereby making it her separate property.

"Col." Hayes' bill with the Mazon Blanche was $163. The seventy-one coupons clipped from $71,000 of bonds amounted only to $140. "Col." Hayes promised to balance of $23 in cash, but failed to do so. It is now said Mrs. Hayes knows where the original bonds are.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prof. J. Laurence Laughlin, head of the department of economics at the University of Chicago, returned to Chicago today from New York to discover that the adjective "hen-minded," which he had applied in his strictures on women and wealth, was not welcomed by Chicago women. When told that Mrs. Minona Pitts Jones had said that "hen-minds" were superior to "rooster-minds," Prof. Laughlin said that he did not believe that women were all "hen-minded."

"I carefully limited my application of that adjective," Prof. Laughlin declared. "I called the woman whose money meant potential usefulness, and who passed all her time and all her thought in purely selfish absorbing in the work of her dressmaker and her coiffeur 'hen-minded,' and insane."

"I admit that there are women of wealth whose wisdom and sympathy in giving is such that the power of their wealth is multiplied a hundred-fold. I do believe that such women are unfortunately few in number."

ROTTEN EGGS GLUT MARKET.

Chicago Cold Storage Product on Sale by the Pound--Prices Still Up to the Ultimate Users.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—Caught by the breaking of the cold storage warehouse corner in eggs and butter, Chicago commission merchants now complain that retail dealers are holding up prices and preventing disposal of their surplus stock.

While the wholesale prices of eggs and butter have depreciated to a low
fancy prices. It is contended by commission men and wholesalers that reduced retail prices would cause the consumers to use more eggs and butter.

The president of a large packing company said yesterday:
"There are eggs today in Chicago which have been in storage twenty-four months. They were unfit for food eighteen months ago. One concern offered by circular letter to sell its eggs at 2 1/2 cents a pound, claiming they had been spoiled in the cold storage where they were stored. The price is equivalent to about 12 cents a dozen.
It never has been known where a lot of this potent food was disposed of,
but it always has found its way into the consuming public's stomach.
Much good has been done by the United States government in the last year keeping close watch on the 'canned' trade. It is to be hoped that they will prohibit absolutely the placing of any eggs in cans in the freezers during the ensuing year."

"The fact that the bulk of these eggs canned are seconds, spots, or rots when they are placed in the cans, renders them absolutely unfit for food.
But when smashed up together and frozen solid as a rock, it is almost impossible for the baker or consumer to know exactly how good or how bad they are."

GROSS EARNINGS SHOW DECREASE.

First Week of February Bad for Many Roads.

Falling Off Slightly, But First in Many Months.

Adverse Climatic Conditions Held Responsible.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the first time in many months a loss is shown in the early February gross earnings of all roads of the United States as compared with the year before.

Aggregate gross earnings of all roads reporting for the first week in the month amount to $7,512,537, a loss of 0.4 per cent. as compared with the earnings of the same roads for the corresponding period a year ago, when the decrease was very small, and possibly to some extent due to adverse climatic conditions in different parts of the country, it is shared in by a number of roads that for a considerable period have been steadily reporting gains.

On the other hand, a number of important systems continue to make satisfactory returns, among them Central of Georgia, Mobile and Ohio, Seaboard Air Line, Southern and Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific in the South, and Missouri Pacific, St. Louis Northwestern, International and Great Northern and Missouri, Kansas and Texas in the West and Southwest. It is not probable that when complete returns are received the statement will exhibit some improvement.

In the following table are given the gross earnings of all United States roads reporting to date for the first week in February and the increase as compared with the earnings of the same roads for the corresponding period a year ago; also for the same roads in the two preceding months, together with the percentage of gains over last year.

ESPEE SEEKING COMPROMISE.

Will Drop Back Lands to Government if Suit to Recover in Other Cases Is Withdrawn.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Atty.-Gen. Wickard is considering a proposition made by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to return to the government 20,000 acres of mineral land in Nevada, valued at approximately $75,000,000, which was illegally patented twelve years ago, providing the government withdraws all suits against the company for land illegally patented.

Several years ago the department entered suit against the company for 70,000 acres which it is alleged had been illegally patented. The government maintained that these lands contained minerals and therefore the railroad company had them illegally. The company now admits that a part of the land contains minerals and is willing to relinquish them, providing the government allows the railroad to keep the remainder, which it says does not contain minerals. The inspectors of the Department of the Interior are investigating the statement that some of the lands do not contain ore.

UNION PACIFIC CUT-OFF PLAN.

Contract Awarded Saturday for Construction of Fifty-Mile Link Parallel Burlington Line.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) OMAHA (Neb.), Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Union Pacific Railroad on Saturday let the contract for the construction of a fifty-mile link of the cut-off which is contemplated across eastern Wyoming, officially known as the Laramie cut-off.

Kilpatrick Brothers and Collins secured the award, and under the agreement must begin within ten days and the entire distance must be finished by August 1, although its completion is promised by July 1.

The fact that the Union Pacific is so anxious to have the work completed so rapidly promises much activity in Harriman railroad affairs.

The link which has just been contracted for extends from Northport, Neb., to Gering, Neb., and parallels the Burlington line the entire distance. It is an extension of the line along the North Platte, eventually rejoining the main line at Laramie, Wyo., making a cut-off of nearly 200 miles. The eastern end leaves the main line at North Platte, Neb. In addition to saving the distance the cut-off will eliminate Sherman hill and other treacherous grades of the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains.

ESPEE WINS ON RATES.

United States Supreme Court Decides Interstate Commerce Commission Exceeded Rights in Ruling.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE REPORT.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—A "transportation rate" is not "unjust and unreasonable" within the meaning of the interstate commerce laws, merely because it may be inequitable, according to a decision announced today by the Supreme Court of the United States, the court holding invalid an Interstate Commerce Commission order reducing the rates on lumber from the Willamette Valley, Or., to San Francisco.

In 1908 the Interstate Commerce Commission issued an order reducing the rate of 35 per cent upon rough green fir lumber and laths from the Willamette Valley to San Francisco to $2.40 and $2.45.

The Southern Pacific attacked the validity of the order in the courts on the ground that no evidence had been presented to the commission to show the rates were unjust and unreasonable compared with the service performed.

The company contended that the reason the commission believed the railroads had induced lumber manufacturers to enter the Willamette Valley by holding out a rate sufficiently low to meet ocean competition at San Francisco, and hence that it would be inequitable after the manufacturers had spent millions in the valley, to allow the railroads to increase the rates. The latter, equitable reason, the transportation company argued, was insufficient to support the order.

The Supreme Court today held that the complaints against the $5 rates did not contend the rates were unjust, and that the commission exceeded its power in issuing an order based on the equitable ground.

Considering the Statements of any Bank, the average person is greatly impressed by the size of the figures given. Mere size has never been evidence of strength, however. For did you ever stop to think that a Bank's deposits are on the liability side of the ledger? They represent what the Bank owes.

A big Bank has a certain strength uncommon in small institutions. But the strength of a Savings Bank depends not alone upon the size, but upon the character of its resources or loans—the kind of securities in which it has invested its Depositors' money.

This Bank has never striven for size at the risk of soundness—nor permitted its judgment to be warped by eagerness for profit. Indeed, persons desiring loans upon real estate sometimes complain of the conservatism of our Loan Department.

Yet experience has proven our policy sound. For after Twenty Years of investing the funds of Depositors—and with present loans of nearly Twelve Million Dollars—this Bank today possesses no real estate or other property taken by foreclosure.

This Bank has become a great institution through a progressively conservative policy—growing steadily and safely through years of sane, careful banking.

Accounts opened at Four and Three per cent interest—
the latter with checking privilege, under moderate conditions.
Full information will be cheerfully given to all who desire it. Call at the Bank or write, if more convenient.

Commits Suicide When Arrest Stares Him in Face.

Mystery of Early February is Solved by Tragedy.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
LONDON, Feb. 20.—The poisonings mystery at Dalkeith had a tragic sequel today in the suicide of John Hutchinson, a son of one of the victims, who swallowed a fatal dose of the poison he had used to murder his father and friend. The suicide was a chemist, and was accused of having placed poison in the coffee served at a dinner party at his father's home, resulting in two deaths and in the serious illness of several persons.

On the evening of February 1, Charles B. Hutchinson gave a dinner to sixteen friends. At the end of the meal coffee was served, first to the ladies and later to the men. After only a few minutes several of the ladies became ill and then a number of the men complained of distress.

Physicians were summoned, but the illness during the night. Later, Alexander Chapman, a relative, died. Two others were seriously ill for some days.

Post-mortem examinations revealed the deaths were due to poison, and suspicion fell on the son, John. A warrant for his arrest was issued and today the officers found him at a hotel at Dalkeith. The young man drew a vial from his pocket and despite efforts of the officers to prevent him from drinking the contents, he died in a few minutes.

A possible motive for the poisonings is suggested by the report that Chapman was a rival of Hutchinson for the hand of a Dalkeith girl. The latter was present at the dinner party and was made seriously ill.

MURDER FOLLOWS FISTICUFFS.

Trouble Between Seattle Men Over Property Award in Divorce Case Causes Fatal Encounter.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
SEATTLE, Feb. 20.—William Miller, aged 39, killed Joseph Pichler, yesterday, in a hand-to-hand fight near Enumclaw, southwest of Seattle.

Pichler's wife, who is the mother of Mrs. Miller, obtained a divorce two years ago, and was awarded property worth $10,000. Pichler was greatly embittered toward Miller as the result.

Miller, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Pichler were walking in the country yesterday, when Pichler appeared from ambush and attacked Miller, knocking him down.

The wife of Miller, who is in favor of Miller and then beat out his brains with a round rock. Miller gave himself up.

GETS NINETY-NINE YEARS.

MURDERER SENTENCED.

OKLAHOMA CITY (OKLA.), Feb. 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Rudolph Taylor, charged with the murder of James H. Meadows in 1927, was sentenced today to ninety-nine years in the state penitentiary for the second time at his third trial here Saturday, and the jury, which deliberated more than forty hours, recommended a punishment of ninety-nine years in the penitentiary.

Miller was then given a second trial on allegations that Meadows had been alive since the time he was said to have been killed. One witness, who said he had seen Meadows, has been given a ten-year sentence on a perjury charge and another is awaiting trial.

VINING PLEADS GUILTY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Harry Vining, who claimed to be the son of E. F. Vining, once prominently connected with the United Railroads in this city, today before Judge Dunn, pleaded guilty to the charge of passing a fictitious check and threw himself upon the mercy of the court. Vining bears a bad record, having served one sentence in prison for forgery in 1927.

He is now charged with giving a bad check to E. C. Homan, his grocery man. Judge Dunn set next Thursday as the time for sentence.

BEAUTIES IN NEW TROUSERS.

Launched at Paris Track Winces.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PARIS, Feb. 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The "trousers skirt" was officially "launched" yesterday at the races when fifty models appeared in the new mode. The crowds in the grand stand, who had come here to see women in trousers, had the races, at first seemed loudly, and there were tumultuous scenes almost fraught with danger to the daring daughters of fashion. Toward the close of the afternoon, however, much favorable comment was heard on the grace and originality of the new mode.

The correspondent of The Times is informed that the models who appeared earliest in costumes with trousers were really sent out by customers who are opposing the "trousers skirt" and who hoped in this way to strengthen the sentiment against it.

However, the advent of numerous models in the genuine style, which is an oversize with a slit in the side, revealing loose Turkish trousers turned the tide.

The men who had been shouting "back to the flares!" then began asking their wives sedulously if they intended to adopt the fashion and criticized with the greatest interest the variations in the attire of the models.

SMUGGLING GAME FRUSTRATED.

Two Chinese Arrested in Oklahoma and Held for Trial on Three Charges—Source of Opium Perhaps.

OKLAHOMA CITY (OKLA.), Feb. 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) What police and government officials believe to have been the biggest smuggling operation having for its object the smuggling of Chinese coolies into this country, was tipped in the bud today when Fou Quan and Ma Quan were arrested here on two charges by United States Immigration Inspector R. T. McNaughton. It is charged in the first place that they had been smuggling Chinese coolies into this country across the Mexican line, and further, that they have been concerned in the smuggling of other Chinese across the border.

In addition, they will be held pending an investigation of the manner in which large quantities of opium were found in their place reached this country. "The men will be tried in St. Louis, it is said."

NEURALGIA OF THE STOMACH

A Kansas Woman Tells of the Knife-Like Pains She Suffered.

After Eight Years of Treatment With Out Result the Patient Tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and Was Quickly Cured.

Neuralgia is irritation or inflammation of a nerve. When the nerves of the stomach are affected the result is the stomachic neuralgia. The treatment is the same as for any other form of neuralgia and consists of a proper tonic, nourishing food and rest.

Mrs. Mary E. Thorpe of No. 1029 Riley street, Ash Grove, Kansas, was cured of a long-standing case of neuralgia of the stomach by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:

"For more than twenty years I suffered from neuralgia of the stomach which was frequently so bad that I was confined to my bed for days at a time. I had knife-like pains in my stomach and each year they grew worse and worse until finally the doctors, who had been treating me for over eight years, said they could do nothing to help me and gave me morphine to ease the pain.

"A friend then recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I began taking them. My case was a stubborn one and I took about four boxes before I could see that they were helping me. But with the fifth box results came rapidly and soon I was entirely cured. I have had no return of the trouble and am now in very good health, thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain the elements necessary to make new blood and, as the nerves get their nourishment from the blood, have been found invaluable in a wide range of diseases of the blood and nerves, such as neuralgia, rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fever, neuritis, nervous debility, and even St. Vitus' dance and locomotor ataxia.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are for sale at all druggists, or will be mailed to any address, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

"Those who are interested in the treatment which cured Mrs. Thorpe can obtain further information by writing for the booklet, 'Nervous Disorders,' which we send free on request."

PARENTS FIGHT FOR BABY GIRL.

SENSATIONAL SEPARATION SUIT MAY BE CARRIED HIGH.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The love affairs of Sidney C. Love, former Chicago and New York broker, clubman and society favorite, have assumed a tangle which may end in the Supreme Court of the United States, following the filing of two suits for divorce, one by Love in Oregon, and that of Mrs. Marjorie Love in New York, each asking for the custody of Marjorie Love, their two-year-old daughter.

Love arrived in Chicago Saturday and immediately went into seclusion. Through Clarence S. Darrow, his attorney, it was learned that neither Love nor his wife was aware of the other getting a divorce. Each would be glad, it was said, to be free. The marital battle, however, will center about the child, Marjorie, now with her mother in New York.

Mrs. Love brought suit at White Plains, N. Y., in the early part of last week against Mr. Love charging him with desertion and demanding the custody of the child who is with her at present.

Mr. Love, through his attorney, admitted that the sole interest he had in his wife's legal proceedings in the East centered about his child. He desired his child to be given Mrs. Marjorie Love, his mother.

Mr. Love will make his fight on the ground that his wife is not fit to have the custody of a two-year-old child. According to Mr. Darrow, the broker charges that his wife is addicted to cigarettes and the use of liquor. Mrs. Love, on the other hand, asserts that her husband is not a proper person to have the custody of the child.

"Love will remain in Chicago several days," said Mr. Darrow. "He is not going East to file in the suit there by the wife. With the two suits filed, two different States, it is hard to say how the case will come out. The event of the case will be in New York, as having filed her suit there, she may be taken, as Love is not a resident of that State, but of Oregon. He will push the child to the end, maybe the Supreme Court."

Mrs. Love charges statutory offense, and names five co-respondents, all women in this underworld. The alleged offenses are declared to have been committed in Seattle, Washington and Baker City, Ore., since Sidney Love went West to rehabilitate his fortune.

The nature of Mrs. Love's action confirms the fact that almost ever since Love went West he has been shadowed by detectives, one of whom is declared to have followed him back to Chicago.

CONVENT INMATES GET SCARE.

Dynamite Bomb, Supposedly Intended for Italian Physician, Causes Panic in Convent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—A hundred girls, inmates of the St. Cecilia convent, on East One Hundred and Sixth street, were thrown into a panic early today by the explosion of a dynamite bomb in the street a few feet from the entrance to the convent. The bomb did practically no damage, as the force of the blast spent itself on the pavement and in the air, but the noise of the explosion was terrific and buildings for a block or more in every direction were shaken.

The inmates of the convent were asleep in their dormitory quarters at this time, but at the sound of the bursting bomb they jumped out of their beds and rushed to the stairways and fire escapes. The sisters quieted them with difficulty while the convent watchman rushed from his room in the cellar to investigate.

On reaching the street the watchman caught sight of a carriage being rapidly driven away. It disappeared in the shadows of the elevated railroad structure. The watchman gave chase but could get no further trace. In the trail of the carriage, the watchman picked up a package wrapped in paper and heavily corded. It contained the second bomb, unexploded, and loaded with about a pound of dynamite.

The police believe the bombs were intended for the convent, but for a wealthy Italian physician, whose residence adjoins the institution. The physician admitted to the police that he had received a threatening letter purporting to come from the "Black Hand" and demanding money on pain of having his house blown up.

OFFICERS OF TURPENTINE TRUST GET REPRIEVE IN SUPREME COURT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The Supreme Court of the United States granted today a request that it review the conviction of officials of the American Naval Stores Company, accused of having violated the Sherman anti-trust law.

This company has been referred to as the "turpentine trust."

As a distributor and exporter of what is claimed to be more than 90 per cent of the turpentine and rosin obtained from the long-leaf yellow pine trees of the Carolinas, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, the concern long has been a prominent figure in the trade of the world.

Today's action was the outcome of a prosecution begun in 1927 in the United States Circuit Court of Georgia, of the company, its officers and others, for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. It had been preceded by other prosecutions. In one of them, Spencer P. Sholter, whose activities as chairman of the board of directors had made him probably the

Westmoreland Place

"The Beauty Spot of Los Angeles"

JUST SO LONG as people take pride in their dwelling places; just so long as the charm of art and beauties of nature appeal to the senses; just so long as "home" (and its elevating influences) has precedence over mere commercialism; just so long will Residence Property such as Westmoreland Place be held in high esteem by those so fortunate as to be able to provide the best for themselves and their families. The foregoing statement is fully justified by the fact that in most large cities the demand for this class of property is in excess of the available supply. Especially is this true of Los Angeles. And no other Residence Section, whatever its claim to exclusiveness or pretentiousness, can be considered quite in the class with Westmoreland Place.

Location—Improvements—Prices and Terms of Sale

In selecting a residence site, location is important. Accessibility, elevation, view, environment—all are embraced in the one word, "location." The location of Westmoreland Place is one of its chiefest attractions. Of equal importance is the class and extent of the improvements—not alone as to the property itself, but of the approaches that lead to it. Westmoreland Place was laid out along broad lines—as to driveways, walks and parkings. These have been beautified by shade trees, semi-tropical plants and rare flowers. Four magnificent gateways, flanked by massive stone lodges, open into the property. Another important improvement is the lighting of Pico street from Vermont to Main, and thence up Main street, connecting with the Broadway lighting system. Posts are now being put in place for this extension, which will be operative inside of 30 days. The system will be uniform with that on Broadway and other downtown business thoroughfares, affording residents of Westmoreland Place a perfectly lighted route to and from the city. Can you imagine a route of 12 minutes? Time required, 12 minutes. All lots are 100 feet front by 200 feet in depth. Purchasing additional frontage will be accommodated. Corners as low as $150 a front foot. Inside lots, desirably located, as low as $125 a front foot. Satisfactory terms may be arranged. You can go farther out, in less desirable localities, and pay more per square foot than these prices. Building restrictions fifteen thousand. For further particulars see owners.

THRILLING TIME IN BULL RING.

Infuriated Animal Tossed Noted Matador and Madrid Crowd Gets Enraged Over During Rencoe.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)
MADRID, Feb. 20.—Carlos Gonzalez, the celebrated Mexican bull fighter, made his debut here yesterday at the Plaza Tetuan, and met with an accident which furnished much excitement to the large crowd of spectators.

The first bull Gonzalez was to fight rushed him, caught him between its horns and threw him with great violence. It was at first thought the infuriated animal had caught Gonzalez on his horns, goring him, and the excitement among the spectators was intense.

The animal was on the point of rushing at the prelate's manor of Gonzalez another matador performed the act called "quite," which consisted of drawing the bull's attention to him by displaying a red cape and then dispatching the bull.

This is a performance which, when well done, always awakens the enthusiasm of the spectators and men throw money, cigars and other things to the second matador, while women throw him flowers, fans and pieces of jewelry.

Gonzalez was not seriously hurt.

Get from any druggist "Two ounces of Glycyrrhine and half an ounce of Concentrated Pine Compound. Mix these with half a pint of good whisky. Take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. Smaller doses to children according to age." Any one can prepare this at home. This is the best formula known to science. There are many cheaper preparations of large quantity, but it can't pay to experiment with a bad cold. Be sure to get only the genuine (Globe) Concentrated Pine. Each half ounce bottle comes in a sealed glass screw-top case. If the druggist does not have in stock he will get it quickly from his wholesale house.

RHEUMATISM PAINFUL & DANGEROUS

Rheumatism is due to a diseased condition of the blood cells and capillaries, brought about by an excess of uric acid in the circulation. It is not only a very painful disease but an extremely dangerous trouble. The uric acid state of the blood gradually forms a coating over the muscles, and by depositing a cement-like substance in the joints frequently terminates fatally, or leaves its victim a hopeless cripple. It is natural to "doctor" the spot that hurts, and it is quite right to use liniments, hot applications, etc., to get temporary relief from a painful joint or swollen tendon, but Rheumatism is not a skin disease, and such things, when depended on alone make one careless, and the disease gets a firmer hold on the blood. S.S.S. cures the disease because it goes into the blood, cleanses it, and removes every particle of the uric acid, and builds up the blood, makes it rich and strong, and in this way prevents it from forming again.

ATHLETIC FIELD CHANGES HANDS.

Playgrounds Commission Is to Manage Stadium.

Old Committee Is Unable to Tackle the Job.

City Council to Be Asked for Appropriation.

The responsibility of planning the great athletic stadium at Exposition Park has been taken from the joint athletic committee at first selected and turned over to the Playgrounds Commission.

Mrs. W. H. Rodman and J. B. Eppincott, who are at the head of a committee in the Playgrounds Commission, are meeting in almost daily session with Wilbur D. Cook, architect, and the plans are being rushed through.

As soon as the plans are completed the City Council will be asked for an appropriation to complete the athletic field in which the greatest athletes in the world are expected to compete during the exposition of 1913.

The committee refused to say, last night, how much money will be asked for; but it must be a large sum.

The plans contemplate an amphitheater which will vie with the old Greek structures for splendor. It will be planned to accommodate every kind of sporting event, from checkers to aviation meets.

Thirty-six acres of the park, which was formerly Agricultural Park until the name was changed at the time the State Legislature made an appropriation for the new exposition buildings, is to be devoted exclusively to recreation.

Clubhouses are to be built with equipment to have for indoor amusement. Everything from nurseries for the mothers to entertain their babies, to chess tables where the old timers can sit and ponder the "next move," will be included in the outfitting of the interior.

On the field outside there is to be apparatus for gymnastics, including the interior baseball diamonds, volleyball courts, tennis courts, La Crosse and football fields.

"We are planning a center not only for local sports but for international contests and Los Angeles will have an outdoor theater which surpasses anything in the West if not in the entire country," said Mrs. Rodman last night in discussing the plans.

A system of lighting will make it possible to hold football and baseball games at night just as well as in the daytime. The large area of ground included in the stadium will make it possible to hold all manner of contests at one time.

A hockey game may be going on in one part of the field while baseball and tennis are occupying other parts so that athletes of every nationality will find a place to enjoy the sports of the homeland.

A committee made up of several members of the local public school and college faculties formerly in charge of the matter, but it was turned over to the Playgrounds Commission as it has more time and experience in that line of work to handle it.

As the appropriation to be asked for cannot fail to run to a large figure, it is very probable that a bond issue will be asked for.

At the time of the dedication of the park, W. M. Brown, the father of the project, stated that the stadium would be turned over to an athletic association to be made up of all the High School athletic associations in the country. The present tendency, however, is to discourage inter-school athletics. The stadium will take on more the character of a theater for general amateur athletics.

A strong effort will be made to inaugurate a series of great winter athletic games which will attract the athletes of the world.

HOGUE TO TRY IT.

Last Chance to Beat Champion Jordan on His Trip to the Coast From England.

Alfred Jordan, English draughts champion won his match against Joseph A. Drouillard at San Francisco with a score of seven games won, eleven drawn, the western champion disappointing his adherents by his poor showing in games which were thought to be his own.

Fred Ketchum is playing a match of twelve games with the Britisher, after which event S. Fred Hogue will essay a match of ten games in a last effort to capture a single game from Jordan for the credit of San Francisco.

In the checker tournament at the Higgins Building, Richardson scored 5% to Stevens 4% and Jensen won 3% against Knapp, 1%. February 23, has been named by the referee as the close of the contest, names and games of players who have not finished their schedules to be cancelled.

SEALS PLAY FIRST GAME AT THEIR TRAINING CAMP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MOESTO, Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Seals had their opening ball game of the season, this afternoon. It was an impromptu affair, arranged without any advance notice and with no other intention than that of giving the boys three or four innings of easy practice, the Yankigans beating the regulars in nine full innings, by a score of 6 to 2.

Sutor had chosen some husky young hitters from among the men and as the pitchers were not trying to put anything on the ball, but merely lobbing it over, the Yans got some juicy singles, doubles and triples that helped them wonderfully in running up a score.

As a game it was far from being a hard-fought contest, but it certainly gave the war correspondents the best

TOZER NURSES SALARY WING.

Ralph Tozer, the crack Los Angeles slabbetter, donned his uniform yesterday afternoon, and worked out the wintry kinks in his right arm on the new diamond at Washington Park. Tozer tossed the ball around with several kids, who were playing in the field. The Angel mound artist is the first Coast leaguer in Southern California to work out for the 1911 season.

"My arm feels fine," said Tozer after a half hour toss-about with the youngsters. "I won't throw any fast ones for some time, but I just wanted to find out if my pegging whip was there. A pitcher can't be too careful the first part of the season. I want to be in good shape when the Red Sox are here."

LEAGUE LEADER MAKES NEW RULE.

UMPIRE SCHEDULE TO SEND MEN OVER CIRCUIT.

Complaints of Last Season Bring About New Order of Things in Baseball—Indicator-handlers to Be Allowed to Draw Straws for Routes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Graham, president of the Coast League, is going to inaugurate an innovation in baseball circles in the West by mapping out a regular schedule for his umpires during the coming season.

Instead of the old system of assigning umpires from week to week, Judge Graham will have his men scheduled for the entire season and he hopes to do away with much of wrangling which resulted last season because certain of the indicator-men were stationed in some cities too frequently and in others for too short a period.

The staff of umpires, which consists of McGreevy, Hildebrand and Finney, will be called together by President Graham shortly before the season opens and will be allowed to draw straws for the routes which will be mapped out. After it is settled in which towns the umpires will open, each man will have a regular schedule to follow out.

This is the first time to the recollection of local baseball men that such a scheme in handling the umpires has been put in force and President Graham hopes to accomplish a great deal of good to all hands.

NEW YALE SCHEME.

NEW HAVEN (Conn.) Feb. 20.—A change in the football rules at Yale has been recommended by the Alumni Advisory Committee and is being considered by the school. The scheme is to have a permanent coach with four or five assistants. As the plan which is being considered is a last effort to secure the services of Howard Jones at a salary of $5000 and four men to help him. The plan is bound to meet with strenuous opposition. The claim is made that despite large profits made in football, the plan would be too expensive. Another criticism is that it would bring a charge of professionalism against Yale if a high salary is paid to the football coach.

right in the eastern press. Many articles have appeared derogatory to Copa de Oro's exhibition mile made at the Arizona Territory Fair, held in Phoenix, November 7 to 12, 1910. These articles have reflected discredit upon a great horse, attacking the character of his driver, W. G. Durfee, and conveying the idea that the performance at Phoenix was crooked.

The facts of the case are that Copa de Oro gave a magnificent exhibition of speed and gameness, making the mile without break or falter in 1:30. He was accompanied by a runner and the intention was to have the mile regular in every respect. In making such a terrific race against time, the runner pulled ahead for a distance of perhaps fifty yards and upon this slight technicality Mr. Savage based his protest.

The record was disallowed on account of the protests of M. M. Savage, the owner of Dan Patch and Minor Heir, and the newspaper offices have been filled ever since with the outpourings of Savage's busy press department.

Fred E. Ward of this city, driver of the runner, has made an affidavit refuting the assertion that the runner preceded Copa de Oro from one-half to five-eighths of a mile. He states in the affidavit that the time of the mile was 1:30 and that the runner was not used as a wind shield.

He states, under oath, that the runner swerved ahead of Copa de Oro for a distance not exceeding fifty yards during the entire mile.

The Board of Reviews of the American National Trotting Association at a meeting held in February, 1911, passed upon the case and gave the decision that, according to rule 132, which reads "When a horse performs against time, it shall be proper to allow any other horse to accompany him in the performance, but not to Mexican Boy Recovers from Strained Muscle.

"Me worried?" queried Jimmy Reagan with terrible scorn, yesterday, as he swatted a punching bag at the East Side Athletic Club. "I'm just about this worried, that I can hardly wait for the gong to clang."

"I'm givin' this Mexican kid six or seven pounds," he continued loftily, "but that doesn't bother me at all. I could give him twenty and beat him, unless he's a whole lot better than I think he is."

"I ain't boasting at all, but if I don't win I'll be the most disappointed kid in the world. I never felt more confident of winning in my life. I'll do a little working out Tuesday on the road and may box a couple of rounds with Kid Cleveland. I can hardly wait for the gong to clang."

Those who have seen the San Francisco boy work are greatly impressed with his speed and punching ability. Reagan is built like a South African chestnut and moves around the ring enclosure like a Catalina sea cucumber. But he is lightning fast when in action, and is noted for his gameness and staying qualities. He reminds one of Battling

'CHOC' WIDOWS, MERRY SOLDIERS

They Shuffled 'Em Yesterday at Caliente.

Opera Folk Visited and Were Shanghaied.

But Chorus Girls Come in Standard Sizes.

"The Chocolate Soldier" is now a "Merry Widow." In fact he is several times a widow, and meanwhile "The Merry Widow" has taken out herself several "Chocolate Soldiers."

And all this happened at a place recently installed on the map of Nevada, known as Caliente.

"The Chocolate Soldier" company left Los Angeles on the Salt Lake route Saturday night, for the Utah capital.

"The Merry Widow" company, left the other end of the line at almost the same time, bound for Southern California.

The two companies met at Caliente as there was a wait of half an hour or so there, the chorales and chorines, soldiers and widows, held a union. Some of them were acquainted, and others were not. But "it takes no time at all" in the show business. In a few minutes there were shuffles of shuffles in violent session all for the two trunks.

Meanwhile the trains were shunted back and forth, up and down the yards, until, at last, the shuffling was over, something. Thus it happened that when the trains did start in real earnest, there was quite a number of the chorus girls who happened to be sitting on the other company's train.

It was just another shunting expedition. After "The Merry Widow" train had turned up about five miles a "Chocolate Soldier" girl looked out of the window and watched a whoop that will keep her singing voice out of commission for a week.

"Girls, we've been shanghaied," she shrieked.

When order had been temporarily restored, "Gene Schütz, manager of 'The Merry Widow,'" took the census. He found he had accumulated seven girls from "The Chocolate Soldier" and lost five of his own.

What to do? Fortunately chorus girls come in standard sizes, as a rule, and after the requisite minutes had been spent in measurements she announced that she could make five of the girls fit the costumes the missing five had left behind—or did she say she could make costumes fit the girls? Anyhow, it was found that the exchange could be made, and no great inconvenience experienced by either company.

So Schütz did some telegraphing with loopy, of "The Chocolate Soldier," and it was impossible to catch trains which would get the girls back to their homes from "The Chocolate Soldier" sailing away as if they had been at all season.

BEST RUNNERS OF THE SOUTH.
WENTY-FIVE ENTRIES FOR THE MARATHON TO VENICE.

Gregg and Haggart Picked by Many to Win Event—Ed Dietrich, a Former Winner, is in Good Condition—Los Angeles Athletic Club Members to Officialize.

Twenty-five highly trained athletes, representing the best the West can produce in the running line, will take their places in front of the new Los Angeles Athletic Club Wednesday morning, preparatory to running the sixth annual Southern California marathon from Los Angeles to Venice. The records will be official for the whole United States, permission of the A.A.U. having been secured. The official rules of that organization will be in force.

All the participants will start today to gain a supply of reserve strength, which will stand the runners in good stead during the long-distance run. The Los Angeles Athletic Club directors are confident that Southern California can produce athletes who are equal to any in the world, and in announcing this race do so with the idea that a record will be made by a winner which will bring this section into prominence as the home of a fast and enduring long-distance runner in the country.

Over no course in the world can a long-distance race be run with as little physical discomfort. From the present outlook, the ground will be dry and soft and the weather clear overland and a breeze from the ocean will generally sweep inland during a Stevenson should investigate the course.

Each runner will bear a number, and a trainer who rides behind will bear number which corresponds, so that a spectator will be able to identify each.

Many Marathon devotees pick Stephen Gregg or George Haggart to win in first place, classic event, which is a veteran at the game and is trained faithfully. He won last year in excellent time. Gregg will represent the Southern California Athletic Club. He has been setting a 2:30 in his training runs at Exposition Park and is a strong runner.

Edward Dietrich, the barrier-marathoner, is in fine fettle, according to a friend, and many pick him to make the tape. Dietrich won the first marathon race held in Southern California, over the same course three years ago. He trained but two days for the race and won with a mile to spare.

Lester McMurray is another L.A.C. who looks good for a place. Walter, a six-foot-seven sailor, will face a starter's pistol Wednesday and is leading woman of "The Girl in the Taxi" company, wearing a hat whose willow plumes are said to have formed the first parcel ever carried by aeroplane express. The conveyance was in Ohio, last fall, and the costly feathers were brought safely miles in a Curtiss type machine. The carriage was not a freak "stunt," but a regular order sent from a milliner to a wholesaler in Cleveland, and delivered by aeroplane to save time and just because the aeronaut "happened to be going that way." Anyhow, the manager says so. Miss Sindelar will play at the Mason Opera-house next week.

THROOP AND MARTIN TO SPRINT FOR HONORS IN A. A. U. MEET.

WALDO THROOP, the champion sprinter of the Pacific Coast, and Leonard Martin, who defeated him in the 100-yard dash last Saturday, will battle for the sprinting supremacy of the South when they speed down the 100 and 220-yard dashes at the A.A.U. meet on Bovard Field, tomorrow afternoon.

One hundred and forty-nine college, high school, grammar school and athletic club athletes will compete in the big track event, but the center of interest will be the two U.S.C. speedsters in the two sprints. Throop will endeavor to regain his lost honors and Martin expects to be the new champion.

The Pomona College relay team which is out for the intercollegiate honors this year, is to run a dual race with the crack Methodist team. The fastest runner started the season with a record of three minutes thirty-one seconds for the mile relay in the Occidental meet Saturday, and with this time to their credit are confident of carrying off the honors.

Eight teams of grammar school boys are to compete in the grammar school relay race. Coming to the meet competition between the grammar school athletes this seems likely to be one of the big races of the tournament.

The winner of the high individual score is to receive a training robe which is considered an unusually valuable prize. The rest of the winners are to be presented with gold, silver and bronze medals. Runners will be given the winning relay teams.

Keen competition is expected between Pomona College and U.S.C. athletes as this will be the first time the coaches of the two schools will meet. Coach Stanton's athletes U.S.C. runners remember the football game last fall when Pomona tied the score after the victory seemed to have won the game, and the university routing section will be well filled.

Throop Academy has entered a relay team which expects to take the relay honors from the L.A. High boys who claim the greatest high school relay material in the South. The Pasadena school has a speedy bunch and Los Angeles High School will be at some disadvantage on account of the race requiring ten-men teams.

The entries:
The 100-yard dash—Throop, U.S.C.; Bogue, Whittier College; Coover, S.C.

A.C.; Nesbitt, Pomona College; Martin, U.S.C.

LEGISLATIVE BILLS OFFERED FOR APPROVAL OF SPORTSMEN.

BY EDWIN L. HEDDERLY.

ANY bills relating to hunting and the protection of game have come before the present Legislature.

It is understood the bag limit on ducks is to remain as it is with an amendment making a weekly bag limit of fifty ducks to the hunter.

Senator Walker in Senate Bill No. 638 provides for the sale at any season of pheasants reared in captivity; it is thought a worthy measure as it would encourage an industry and do no great harm, as the pheasant never has proved itself able to attain a foothold in California in sufficient numbers to rank as a game bird.

Senator Walker in Senate Bill No. 728, offers a change in the hunting license law which effect imposes a license of $1 on all who fish for trout or salmon. Salt water brethren are exempted.

Assembly Bill 653, introduced by Cunningham, would permit salmon to be taken by hook and line during the closed season, and permit salmon raised in captivity to be sold regardless of the close season.

Assemblyman Cunningham also offers an amendment allowing a steelhead trout to be taken with hook and line at tide-water at any time, with a similar exemption to domestic-raised fish.

Assembly Bill No. 738, offered by Bishop of Orange county, would repeal the State law passed by the last Legislature which prohibited the sale of game preserve at the head of Newport Bay is the one aimed at.

Assembly Bill No. 524, introduced by Gaylord, is a swipe at the gun clubs also—it aims to stop the shooting of all varieties of waterfowl from a tank or sink box. All that the world would be the forcing of the gun clubs to rebuild their blinds to conform to whatever law was passed.

Assemblyman Walsh has introduced as possible all the unscavengable marsh or slough lands in the State taking $10,000 annually from the State game and fish fund for that purpose. The idea is to permit any person having the proper license to hunt on these lands at will.

bills providing bounties bills numbered 98 and 99, Assembly — out of the same preservation fund for the destruction of vermin, as follows: Wolves $2.00; wild pup, $2; coyotes $1; bobcat, wild cat, or lynx, $1.50; mountain lion, $1.50—the present bounty is $2—horned owl, goshawk, sharp-shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk, duck hawk, pigeon hawk, sparrow hawk, 50 cents each; butcher bird, 10 cents, and bluejay, 5 cents each.

OFFERS CHANGES.
All kinds of changes are offered in the open and close seasons on fish and game. Assemblyman Nolan recommends a duck season of November to March, snipe included. He would include in the State's listed game, cottontail and brush rabbits, with a close season, February 1 to July 31. Other suggested changes are doves, August 1 to October 1. Quail the month of December. Nolan's bill reduces the duck limit to fifteen and the limit on other birds to a dozen. Rabbits are limited to fifteen. Deer, August 1 to October 1. Ducks not allowed to be sold, and common carriers are forbidden from transporting excess of the bag limit from any one person. This Nolan bill is but one of several, and the game law eventually will be made up of a combination, probably different from any one of the bills offered.

Assembly Bill No. 714 is of southern interest only in that it fixes a definition of certain waters in which net fishing shall not be allowed, giving geographic boundaries, and combining therewith a hook and line provision. It applies to Napa River.

A close season of two years on edible crabs is offered by Assemblyman Mulhally. It being stated that the crabs are almost certain to be exterminated by the present rapacious methods he permitted to continue. Bills to prohibit the shipment of striped bass from this State are also offered.

Great shipments of these fine food fish have been sent outside the State in the past, making a higher price for the fish, and stopping the fishermen who have been propagating these fine food and game fish for so many years, and permitting others to reap the benefits without sharing the expense.

A bill to put trammel nets out of business is Assembly Bill No. 571, by Mr. Jones. It proposes to stop the use of the two and three mesh combinations, which, as it will many fry and let the larger ones get through.

The bill repealing the law against using salmon or steelhead roe for bait and permitting hook and line fishing for steelhead in February and March appears to be in a fair way of passing, having been reported favorably.

Assemblyman March in Bill No. 104, to provide a closed deer season until July 15, 1914.

TO PAY BOUNTY.
Assemblyman Stuckelbruck in Bill No. 131, provides that twenty-five ground squirrels in lieu of the dollar charged for hunting license. The bill was dealt harshly with in committee. The idea of California had outgrown the bludge and barter stage of her existence.

There are three bills looking toward the State into air game and fish districts.

Senate Bill No. 185, by Birdsell, relating to dogs in deer hunting, provides that a pack may be used in trailing wounded deer, but not more than two dogs may be employed at other times.

Assemblyman March in Bill No. 102, would remove from the shrimp all the protection previous fish commissions have been forced to recommend on account of the incidental harm to the small fish fry incidental to the shrimp business as conducted. The shrimp nets catch tons of fry. Incidentally, the shrimp situation is said to be the underlying reason why the Fish and Game Commission is to be eliminated.

Some of the drivers in the employ of Mr. Savage also attacked the time, stating that the mile was slightly slower than what was claimed, but as there was no chance to have been certain stick, it seems to have been dropped.

The mile was considered a splendid performance by the managers of the fair and evidence and awards were sent to the Board of Review by the Fair Commissioners, by the judges by the secretary and the driver of the mile was made in 1:10 and that the runner was never at any time in a position where he could have served the purpose of a wind-shield.

The owners of Copa de Oro contend that it is utterly improbable that the managers of the fair would not emphatically uphold the mile if it was in any way connected with the fair.

pride or be harnessed with or in any way attached to him," the record could not be recognized as official.

LITERAL INTERPRETATION.
The decision was made according to an absolute, literal interpretation of the rule. The original purpose of the rule was to correct the abuse made of the wind shield, as, in many cases, the horse making an exhibition was accompanied by several horses, and by a canvas apparatus that was complete shield from all wind resistance.

The mile made by Copa de Oro does not come in this category, but the few lengths the runner shot ahead was held to mean that the runner "preceded" him and the mile was disqualified through a technical quibble.

Some of the drivers in the employ of Mr. Savage also attacked the time, stating that the mile was slightly slower than what was claimed, but as there was no chance to have been certain stick, it seems to have been dropped.

FACTS FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

At this time when colds are prevalent, it is well to remember that the slightest soreness of the throat, if not treated at once, may lead to serious results. There are many simple remedies which, if taken in small quantities upon the tip of the tongue, will usually cure an incipient throat trouble, and may be taken each hour until relief is obtained.

Kindly Provision.

Many letters come to me from women who say that owing to delicate health, they cannot go about shopping at haphazard and therefore they wish to know just where to purchase this or that, and I am always glad to help. I have learned that one of the large stores has installed a wheel chair for those persons who enjoy shopping but are unable to get about easily. Is this not a most thoughtful provision? What a boon to the semi-invalid who enjoys purchasing for herself but has been denied the privilege. I know of dear old ladies, too, who love to go to the bargain store but who are unable to take the younger members of the family while they thus entertain themselves; now they can be left at the door of the establishment and encoined in a wheeled chair, may buy bargains in all parts of the house and no one will be worrying about them of this long ago.

Fashion's Armorer.

The perennial warfare against the edicts of Dame Fashion are about as effective as the barking of small animals in changing the course of the moon. I suppose reformers frothed and fumed when our grand dames decked themselves in skirts of hoop and slippers of paper, and to be sure, those fashions were decried—when they did run their course. The slender silhouette will probably resign in favor of the hallo outline, despite the preachments of the reformer, when halloan outlines are done. I am even inclined to think that if there is sufficient effort to prevent it—the Panama pantaloons may become semi-universal. You see fashion is a shy girl and she is apt to show her defiance of all kinds of admonitions by simply winking the other eye, while she purges the even floor of her way.

WOMEN'S WORK. WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY ROSE L. ELLERRE.

The women of the W. S. Rosecrans Social and Study Club, of which Mrs. J. E. Coleman is president, are doing good work in the north-west section of the city. On Saturday they gave a Valentine party at the home of Mrs. Coleman, entertaining more than fifty children of the Echo Park Playground settlement and neighborhood, together with many of their mothers. Valentines were hung on the trees and tables, two sacks of oranges and Mrs. Coleman's of the general collection were distributed, also, city of pairs of shoes, a considerable amount of clothing. These presents raised enough money to purchase a tricycle for a little cripple, one of a family of seven fatherless children. The club is working for a clubhouse as a center for the settlement and civic work in that vicinity. Music and study sections of the club meet regularly on Wednesday. The music section is aiding in educating two girls who give promise as musicians. On Wednesday of this week the needlework section of the club met at the home of Mrs. Mary Stratton, No. 1033 Florida street, to work. Many are interested in the work.

Ten and Twelve.

On Wednesday afternoon Miss Frances Willis will serve tea at her home, No. 24 Buena Vista street, to a number of prominent suffragists and members of the women of the Third Congressional district, who are interested in organizing that district for active work in the coming campaign.

P. E. O. Banquet.

Chapter "W." Mrs. F. L. McKee, president, of the P. E. O. Clubhouse, will give a card party at the Ethel Clubhouse on Tuesday night, February 21, for the P. E. O. educational fund. The entertainment of college women devoted to the study of the history of the world is being assisted to complete the course at Claremont.

Highland Park Ethel.

Tuesday morning, at the meeting of Highland Park Ethel in Masonic Hall, Pasadena avenue, Dr. E. P. Ryland will talk on the "Boy in the Home." Mrs. Penelope Cuthbert will be the pianist, playing two numbers.

Cosmos Club.

The Cosmos Club of San Pedro has invited Cosmos Club to be their guests Tuesday afternoon, February 21. A large delegation of Cosmos women will leave for the Pacific Electric station at 1 o'clock and anticipate an unusually pleasant afternoon.

Cosmos Club members and their families will arrive at their clubhouses in Venice. The Reception Committee will include Mrs. W. O. Toliver, Mrs. George Cole, Mrs. G. H. Alpert, Mrs. Chris Hollie, Mrs. Leigh Thornton and Mrs. George MacGinnis, all of whom will wear colonial costumes, as will many of the guests. Mrs. George Cole is in charge of the program and is planning a happy surprise for the members.

The Shakespeare section of Cosmos had its usual session on Thursday, conducting a very interesting study of Hamlet. A Friday session has just been organized and a large class shows enthusiasm under the instruction of Miss Corbin.

Los Angeles W.C.T.U.

This union will hold a social meeting at the home of Mrs. F. E. Gillette, No. 1412 Bernard street, Tuesday, February 21, from 2 till 4 o'clock. Mrs. George Fort will speak of life in the United States and Australia, showing specimens of her visits to those countries.

Parent-Teacher Meeting.

Washington Park Parent-Teacher Association held its regular meeting last Friday afternoon in the school building. Mrs. Laird J. Stabler gave a fervent talk on "The Rights of Children," and Mrs. Wadsworth and Mrs. Stabler furnished the music.

Political Equality League.

Mrs. Emma Smith DeWitt, president of the Political Equality League, will give a lecture on "The Rights of Women" at the Los Angeles Public Library, Tuesday, February 21, at 8 o'clock.

At the meeting of the executive board of the Political Equality League, held Monday morning, it was decided to transfer the headquarters of the organization from its present location in the Story building to the Choral Hall in the Auditorium. Here these offices will be available for use of committees and business, and the hall will be used for public meetings when desired.

Ethel Club. The fifteen-minute talk on current topics was given yesterday by Mr. Hughes, who spoke on the necessity of training children to save and foresight. A large share of accidental deaths are caused by carelessness and recklessness. The drama, "The Shepherd," written by Olive Tilford Dargatzis, after a prolonged stay in Russia, was a powerful study of the revolutionary spirit of that and country, showing the utter lack of bitterness even the longing and striving for peace, in the midst of revolutionary movements and by those who are forced by conditions to become revolutionists. It was strongly rendered by Cora Mel Patton, who held her audience almost breathless during the long reading.

Turtle Doves. OLD-LOVE FLAME BURNS AGAIN. AFTER STORMY CAREER, YEARS FOR DOMESTICITY.

District Attorney Will Probably Allow Mrs. Kraus to Go East to Erect Reconciliation With Husband Upon Her Solemn Promise to Refrain From Further Rash Acts.

Daisy May Kraus, who is held in the County Jail, awaiting a second trial on a charge of having attempted to murder F. H. Griffith, has been given by her former husband, a medical professor in the University of Tennessee, according to information which has reached the District Attorney. According to the same source, a reconciliation will be effected if she can reach her former spouse. She is now planning to marry him.

It is likely that Mrs. Kraus will leave for Memphis in a few days to join her husband. The District Attorney has consented to permit her to make the trip and give her an opportunity to take up a better life. The charge against her will not be dismissed but held in abeyance. If she does not again offend the law, it will never be brought to trial.

Mrs. Kraus has had a meteoric career. The college professor married her and refused to pay the bills she contracted. She sprang into the "limelight" here last summer when she shot Griffith, her former husband, in the back. She was taken back to jail to await the retrial. According to her own statements, her former husband had taken her back again and she wishes to go to him. She promised that her life will be exemplary.

She expects that the money for her transportation will be received here today. If it arrives, she will start on her eastern trip tomorrow.

ACTIVE WOMEN. Miss Elizabeth C. Harris, daughter of Representative-elect Robert E. Harris of Massachusetts, will fill the unique position of private secretary to her father after he takes his seat in Congress. A woman secretary to a Representative is a circumstance so rare as to be practically unknown. As there have never been any boys in her family, Miss Harris has been a chum of her father, who has offered to take her to Washington as his helper.

Lady Decies (Vivian Gould) surprised the natives of Brunswick, Ga., by puffing a cigarette while sitting in a window of her car in full view of several hundred persons gathered at the depot to get a look at the bride couple on their way to Jersey Island, where they are spending their honeymoon.

Bessie and Gladys Martin, twin sisters of Missouri Springs, Mo., have made the highest grade made in the University of Missouri during the last four years. They tied on an average grade of 77.5 and landed the list of five seniors to be elected to the Phi Beta Kappa. The girls are in their twentieth year, and during the four years they have been students in the university, they have invariably made the same grade, though they never study together and seldom receive each other's help.

Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge has been elected president of the New York State Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage to succeed Mrs. Francis M. Scott, resigned. At the fifteenth annual meeting of the association, which took place the other day in New York City, the secretary, Mrs. George Phillips, read the report of the Executive Committee, showing great activity during the past twelve months.

BY HALVORSEN-MOHR. I had the honor to know Dr. Rosen personally very well indeed. The very first time I appeared on the stage was in his play "Little Eryll" when it was given in Christiania. Though I was only ten years old at the time, I can recall every incident as if it had occurred but yesterday.

Rosen had such a delightful humorous way of telling us all his opinion. He would take hold of your arm very gently, and leading you over to a dark corner of the stage, would whisper what he wanted to say in your ear. After the first night's performance of "Little Eryll" he came up to me, and grasping both my hands, said: "Dear little child, you have made a wonderful Little Eryll," and he kissed me on both cheeks.

I remember how sorry I was to take off the make-up which had been kissed by the great man. Before he became seriously ill, he used to walk every day, always at the same hour and in the same street. I very often met him, and frequently when he saw me he would cross the street to talk to me.

I was a schoolgirl at the time and my face always turned purple with pride. Once I recollect—it was the day after a play of his had been given—he said: "I never knew until I saw my play performed there was so much secret meaning in it," and he laughed so heartily it makes me merry now to recall it. Like all very young people, I was impatient to find a royal road to fortune, and annoyed that I was not given the parts I would have liked to play. "Wait a little, my dear," he would say. "My dear Little Eryll will be a great actress some day."

WOULD BREAK BROTHER'S WILL

Vitalion Goes on Stand and Offers Testimony as to Eccentric Conduct of Relative.

VISALIA, Feb. 15.—William Whitaker gave his testimony yesterday to the jury in the Superior Court, as the first step in the attempt being made by himself and his sister to break the will left by his eccentric brother, Horace Whitaker. In which his large property interests were given to the Garrison brothers of San Francisco and the brother and sister were cut off with nothing.

Whitaker spent upwards of an hour, under the questioning of his lawyer, making incidents which would tend to show that his brother was of unsound mind. At the conclusion of the testimony, the lawyers for the defense, in the employ of the Garrison brothers, what shook the force of his testimony by accusing him of the admission that he had spent little or no time in caring for his brother during his last illness. This was explained, on request, by the defense, which is to be held here on the 23rd of February.

John Macdonald, a prominent contractor will be chief judge of the case. J. C. Hall, a merchant will be chief inspector. J. E. Gannon and Will C. Tool will be the clerks. In all respects the election is to be conducted under the provisions of the general election laws of the State of California.

It was asserted on the streets today that evidence had come into the possession of the Anti-Saloon League of officers that an attempt is being made to corrupt voters and force registration of workmen who are here for the time being, it being assumed that these votes will be cast for the saloons. This report could not be verified and there appears no foundation for the assertion that either side is preparing to use force, which would savor in the least degree of illegality.

As a rumor had gained some currency that the board intended at their last night's meeting to rescind their former action calling for a special election, there was an immense crowd in the gallery at the Council meeting.

merchant of Fresno and the remains will be sent to Fresno this evening for interment.

SCHOOL BOY REFORMERS. Boys of the sixth and seventh grade of the Tipton Lindsay grammar school have given the City Council a lesson in law enforcement in calling the attention of the city lawmakers to the fact that the ordinance prohibiting the sale of cigarettes and tobacco to persons under the age of 18 years is being customarily violated.

In the communication, which was read at the special meeting of the Council last night, to the intense satisfaction of the large audience present, the following appears: We, the undersigned members of the Seventh Grade Civic League are trying to live up to a pledge to abstain from the use of cigarettes or tobacco. There is a law in force in this city which makes it a misdemeanor to sell or give away to boys under 18 years of age, tobacco in any form, and one who violates this provision can be put into the hands of the law. Yet in the meetings of our league boys have stood before us and said they can get tobacco in a dozen places in Visalia, in fact could get it in any store in Visalia, with one exception. And the communication ends with this pertinent set of questions: "What do the citizens of Visalia elect their officers for, to enforce the law of to let people do as they please?" "Isn't an ordinance which is not enforced, worse than no ordinance at all?"

MAN CONFESSES HE MURDERED.

MEXICAN TELLS IN DETAIL OF BRUTAL ASSASSINATION.

Coolly Tells All About It—Mob Prevented From Hanging the Man Summarily Demands Immediate and the Extreme Penalty or Further Violence May Be Expected.

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 15.—Juan Maganaya is the name given by the head-hunter of the San Joaquin Valley, who was captured at the end of the most exciting man-hunt in the history of the San Joaquin Valley, in which 400 men and officers participated for fifteen hours.

Maganaya has made a complete confession, in which he told in detail the story of his brutal crime. Maganaya, who talks excellent English, sat in the rear of a fast auto last evening, between two officers, Sheriff Collins of Visalia and Chief of Police Ed Lham of this city, who were taking him to Visalia, after escaping from a mob of 100 frenzied men here, who were bent on lynching. With a cigarette between his lips and with every appearance of being the most excited man in the party, he told of his crime.

"I killed the man because I wanted money," he said. "I went in the store, to ask for shoes. I knew the shoe department was near the safe, where the money was put at night. I had watched the safe several times and knew all about how it was fixed. I went in and told the man that I wanted shoes. He went back to the back of the store and showed me a pair of black shoes. Then I told him I wanted red shoes and when he turned around with the box in his hand, I grabbed him by the throat and told him: 'I don't want shoes, I want your money.' The man told me to get out of there, that he would give me no money. Then I drew my knife and stabbed him. I don't know how many times I stabbed him. When he fell down, I started for the safe to get the money and then a man came in the front door. I ran to the front of the store and turned out the lights and then started after the man who had come in. I expected to kill him if it was necessary. This man went through the window and I went out right after him. If he had stayed away a little longer I would have got the money. I am sorry the man I killed had a wife and children. I didn't know that."

Collins' ride to Visalia with his prisoner, he states, is one of the most exciting episodes in his ten years' experience as an officer. Stunned at the rate of forty miles an hour to escape the forty auto loads of frenzied Porterville people, the machine with the prisoner ran from an irrigating bridge near Woodville, twelve miles west of this city, overturned, the gasoline tank exploded and the machine burned to a cinder. In the meantime the mob in pursuit had lost track of the officer and his prisoner, and word was sent to Tulare for a second machine. In this machine the ride was completed in safety. Business resumed its ordinary tone this morning, after the most exciting three days in the history of Porterville. During the progress of the man-hunt, and during the chase after the officers and the prisoner, men of the most ordinarily staid habits and attitudes of mind became almost mad in their desire to get Maganaya and if he had been taken from the officers he would have been torn limb from limb.

De Frank Ribas, the Mexican foreman of the labor camp on the line of the P. N. E. Railroad, where the murderer was finally captured, should go all the credit for the apprehension of the criminal. Ribas discovered the fugitive in the camp about 9 o'clock in the morning and communicated the news to a posse which was scouring the river bottom a short distance from the camp. Even then it was only after a search of two hours that Maganaya was finally discovered in a pile of manure in the rear of a tent stable. When he was at last found, he walked calmly from his hiding-place and, telling his pursuers if they wanted to shoot him to get it over with, he walked up to Chief of Police Lham and held out his hands for the braces.

Sheriff Croxson of Hollister arrived here last night in the belief that Maganaya is a man who was by the name of James, who is wanted there for the killing of a white woman almost two years ago. Ribas, or Maganaya, answers this description perfectly, even to a scar on his cheek. As there were no witnesses to the murder and the evidence is circumstantial, Maganaya, or Ribas, will probably have to be taken back to Hollister for examination.

There is an insistent demand here for a speedy trial, and in view of his confession, for the immediate execution of the Mexican band. Should there be any delays in meeting out full justice, those who are in touch with the local situation state that there will be still more violence.

and no trains of the Western Union are traveling the steel path that crosses the Sierras of the century ago. As one of the few survivors of the generation building the transcontinental line, Keddle has been on the scene at the City at the foot of the Sierras since this State, and made the following speech when the first passenger train ran through the famous abutment of the City at the foot of the abrupt rejection of his case by the builders of the first railroad constructed across the precipitous forbidding Sierra Nevada.

"I am a northward like a feather, three rivers, each called a fork of the Feather, have their sources nearby in the Sierras, and the most picturesque of the three, North Fork, was the path selected by Keddle. There is practically no road here, and the only water, a turbulent stream through the left of the granite slide. The pass leading to it was one of the lowest of the Sierras.

"With a tunnel about 6000 feet long, the pass was crossed at an elevation of 11,000 feet over 5000 feet. Then the engineers laying the lines ran them to the foot of the Sierras, and the men from the days of gold excitement in California history. Then came the building of the most exciting places of the world, to be followed by the building of a grade exceeding 1 per cent. to a point in the 120 miles of canyon from the City at the foot of the Sierras to the City at the foot of the Sierras, a drop of 120 feet to the mile. At the City at the foot of the Sierras the drop was far greater than that. In other places it was much

day.

That the new treaty will encounter opposition seems certain, for even if it could be speedily reported to the Senate from committee without serious controversy within the committee room, the western Senators are expected to insist upon opportunity for debate which will develop the full extent of their opposition to the treaty.

Unlike matters of ordinary legisla-the treaty during the remainder of this session of Congress would not of itself extinguish its vitality, which could be kept indefinitely alive in the executive files of the Senate, to be taken up

This new treaty is one of "trade and commerce," intended to replace the treaty of 1894 negotiated by the late Secretary of State, John Hay, and then Japanese Minister to the United States. That treaty is a most comprehensive document, comprising twenty-four articles dealing with trade, commerce and navigation, rights of dwelling, import and export duties, tonnage

Cincinnati Banker Gives Bail.
Ex-County Treasurer
Says He Got Cash.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
CINCINNATI (O.), Feb. 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) George B. Cox, banker and politician, who today was indicted for perjury, tonight said that the grand jury which returned the indictment was illegally drawn, alleging that a Democratic judge drew the juror's names from his inside pocket.

In making this statement he defies Judge Gorman, who this afternoon announced that any talk alleging the jury drawing was illegal might be considered contempt of court.

Cox appeared in court within an hour after the indictment was returned, and gave bail of $1000. Abraham Furber, a Democrat, prominent locally, was his surety. No date for Cox's appearance in court was set.

The basis of the charge is that Cox testified falsely before a grand jury on March 21, 1906, in denying he had received any of the interest money which several banks, according to disclosures before the Drake investigating committee, paid to County Treasurers as recompense for the deposit of county funds in those banks.

SPECIFIC CHARGE
The specific case upon which the jury acted occurred in the administration of John H. Gilman, who served two terms as County Treasurer from 1902 to 1904. Gilman, under whom from Judge Gorman, testified before the grand jury yesterday and Cox had received $18,000 of the $70,000 which the banks gave to Gilman as "gratuities."

This was the amount which Gilman paid into the county treasury in 1904, following an investigation by the grand jury of the Drake disclosures.
Two other treasurers, Elden R. French and Rudolph H. Hyniska, also paid considerable sums to the county, French turning into $21,000 and Hyniska, $24,000.

Mr. Cox, in speaking of the indictment said:

"I do not consider this an indictment in the true sense of the word. It was purely a political move and was brought about by politicians.

"The jury which brought the indictment was selected by a Democratic judge, who drew the names of the grand jurors from his inside pocket instead of from the jury wheel, as the law requires.

tacks and one of the most outrageous proceedures emanating from a body my side of this affair to the facts as brought out in the trial. In the meantime I ask the public to suspend judgment."

STATE CONTROL OF HARBORS STILL GOLDEN GATE DEMAND.

Northern City Bound to Maintain Supremacy in Ocean Commerce by Denying Los Angeles the Privilege of Fixing Its Own Rates—Oakland and San Diego Fall Into Trap Prepared by Senators Wolfe and Curtin.

BY W. R. WILLIAMS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) With its usual pertinacy, San Francisco stood by its demand for State control of harbors before the Judiciary Committee of the Senate at the hearing of the Oakland and San Diego officials this afternoon.

Smilingly Senator Wolfe asked Mayor Conard of San Diego and Mayor Mott of Oakland if they would object to municipalities for development as municipal expense if the State merely retained control of the minimum rates to be fixed. Both Mayor Conard and Mayor Mott said they thought this would be agreeable.

Similar questions were asked by Senator Curtin of the officials of Oakland and San Diego regarding the minimum land, coupon requests and similar answers were given.

Curtin followed these answers with a question to Senator Hewitt. He asked if such a concession would be acceptable to Los Angeles.

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Feb. 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The appointive board of St. Paul, one of the members of which is Mayor Keller, has inserted a "want ad" in the local papers in an endeavor to procure the services of a capable non-partisan city assessor at a salary of $4000 per year. The incumbent, Charles L. Hane, will quit the office March 1. The "want ad" follows:

"Wanted—Man for assessor whose honesty and integrity are above question, who has backbone and will live to the very end, must be a non-partisan person, expert accountant, have thorough knowledge of valuation, both real and personal property and who will attend to business during office hours and will work for $4000 per year as a commencement."

Both Mrs. Gardner and Mrs. George W. Hall, in whose presence Gardner and Hall, according to Hall, were said to have discussed the contribution of the fund, denied that there had ever been any such conversation in their hearing.

Gardner denied all accusations of the State's witnesses. He denied that he met Fowler on a train, coming from Albany, that he invited him into a compartment, that he offered to pay him any money, or that they discussed the bill anywhere at any time. He swore he was not even in Albany during the special session at which the bill was passed.

The chamberlain's examination today was brief. That of Gardner, who is the defendant against Fowler's ac-cusement that Gardner approached him with an offer of $12,000 for his vote was more minute.

Gardner denied the accusation. In general and the testimony introduced by the people in minute particulars.
Instead of telling District Attorney
Elder about a $15,000 corrupting fund, Gardner testified today that Elder sent for him to tell him about the rumor of such a fund and to ask the truth.

"I told him all I knew was what I had read in the newspapers," swore Gardner.

Continuing, he quoted Mr. Elder as saying:

"Frank I understand Fowler has been promised $15,000 and took $10,000." Elder said to me that if he could give Governor Hughes a report of the exact condition of things in Albany, there was a chance of his being appointed to the supreme bench."

The hearing was adjourned until Thursday.

Litigation Between Wealthy

by Lawyers.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BALTIMORE (Md.) Feb. 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Mrs. Isaac H.
Emerson, who is being sued for a divorce by her millionaire husband, is authoritative for the statement that his pending or possible litigation against Dr. Smith Hollins McKim, formerly of Baltimore, his father-in-law, Dr. H. H.
Emerson, his former wife, Dr. Emerson's daughter, Mrs. Frederick McKim, of New York, and Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Jr., for alienation of Mrs. McKim's affections was brought to an end yesterday afternoon at a conference in the office of the late firm of Hay, Herndon and Wolf, of New York.

Mrs. McKim recently secured a divorce in Rome, N.Y., from Dr. Isaac Hollins McKim. Since then she has been seen at the home of Dr. H. H.
Emerson, and at restaurants with Alfred G. Vanderbilt. Papers were signed at this conference which release Mr.
Vanderbilt, Dr. Emerson, the daughter and Mrs. Frederick McKim from any legal action pending from Mrs. McKim divorcing her husband.

LARGE SUM INVOLVED
In consideration of this release, Mrs.
McKim was awarded a sum of money which will be paid in installments for statements as well as a lump sum which was a signed check for $100,000. The amount involved in this case, however, but it is understood from one of the attorneys who participated in the conference that Dr. McKim secured a large sum.

The attorney mentioned in Mr.
Herndon's name is Mr.
Herschfeld, who states:

"There has been considerable an-tagonism by which Dr. McKim has arranged to end all litigation and the alienation of his wife's affections. That is all."

Mrs. McKim is a beautiful woman living on the Hudson. Her sister lives that of Mrs. McKim, daughter of Dr. Emerson. She is a friend of Dr. Emerson and her sister, Mrs. McKim, in visits to Dr. Emerson's $1, 000,000 shooting preserve in North Carolina. Gossip has linked the names of Dr. Emerson and Mrs. McKim since the millionaire married against his wife, naming Thomas G.
Bosher, a business and club man of Baltimore as co-defendant.

It is understood that the conference was held in Mr. Herndon's office.
Former Judge Morgan, J. O'Brien, is further understood, appeared in behalf of not only Mr. Vanderbilt, but Dr. Emerson, Mrs. McKim and Mrs.
McKormick. It is understood that the paper which was signed was left in his possession as co-defendant.

OTHER LAWYERS HERE
Besides Messrs. Herndon and O'Brien, several other lawyers came here in behalf of Dr. McKim. They were of the conference lasted from early in the afternoon until close to a clock. It is understood that the sum involved will be paid semi-annually until Dr. McKim's death, with the provision, of course, that no action of any kind is brought by Mrs.
McKim against any of those mentioned.

Reports have been made from time to time that Dr. McKim intended to bring suit against Mr. Vanderbilt for alienation of his wife's affections and there have also been reports that at an engagement at Mrs. McKim and young Vanderbilt. At the last home show, she was a visitor in the box and during the season at Newport several guests as Mrs. McKim and Mrs. Vanderbilt were often found at the same social occasions.
Dr. McKim, when asked relative to the settlement reached, after hesitating for some time said:

"There is nothing I can say. You will have to see my lawyers."

PRE-COOLING CHARGE CUT.

Notable Victory for Citrus Men.

Southern California Industry Scores Big Point Against Railroad Companies.

Twenty-two Dollars and Fifty Cents Lopped from Rate Per Car to the East.

Decision Far-Reaching in Its Benefits to Growers as Well as Packers.

BY F. J. DYER.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Another great victory over the transportation companies was scored today by citrus fruit growers, when the Interstate Commerce Commission handed down its finding in the complaint brought by the Arlington Heights Fruit Exchange and others against the Southern Pacific Company and others.

The commission finds that the charge of $20 for precooling oranges transported in carloads from shipping and producing points in Southern California to points in other states, to the extent that the charge exceeds $7.50 per car, is unreasonable and unjust, and it is ordered that the defendants cease and desist, on or before the first day of April, and for a period of not less than two years thereafter abstain from exacting the charge of $20 a car for precooling oranges transported in carload lots.

It is further ordered that the defendants establish a rate that shall not exceed $7.50 a car, "but said defendants may, as a condition of making this charge, require that precooling cars be loaded with boxes of oranges seven tiers high and two tiers high, and may provide by their tariffs a proper minimum carload weight to accomplish this result, the amount of which to be fixed by the commission."

FINDINGS REPHRASED.

The commission epitomizes its findings as follows:

(1) What is a reasonable charge for precooling oranges for the movement of citrus fruits from California to eastern markets? "Nothing should be added by reason of the fact that a refrigerator car is used, since that has been taken into account in establishing the rate of transportation, nor for the service of inspection, which is substantially the same for all shipments, but the expense of transporting the additional weight of the car and for repairs to the car should be considered."

(2) Defendants present charges for the refrigeration of oranges in transit from California points to the East as found to be unreasonable. "The fact that the great bulk of the orange crop may be moved by pre-cooling as applied by the shippers."

(3) Upon the facts disclosed by the record, it must be found that pre-cooling at the packing-house is a practical method which the complainants are anxious to use, and for the efficiency of which they are willing to stand responsible, while the method advocated by the carriers is of doubtful practicability and one which the complainants do not dare use and which the defendants are unwilling to guarantee.

COOLING CHARGES FIXED.

(4) In view of the circumstances under which these oranges are transported, it is the duty of the carrier to furnish refrigeration upon reasonable demand and in so far as the furnishing of that refrigeration is a part of the service rendered by the carrier, the carrier may insist upon its right to furnish that service, but it appears that service of pre-cooling, if the shippers desire to use it, can only be performed by the shippers themselves and the commission thinks that from the best record it is the right of these complainants to pre-cool their shipments. If, however, the carrier has been put to additional expense in the furnishing of the car or in the handling of the shipment, it should be allowed proper compensation upon that account.

(5) Carriers are not, in case of these pre-cooled shipments, entitled to additional compensation by reason of the fact that a refrigerator car is furnished, but they are entitled, for repairs to ice bunkers, to an additional charge per car per trip one way.

(6) Defendants' present pre-cooling charges for oranges in transit from California points to the East are found unreasonable and reasonable charges established for the future.

DECISION MEANS MUCH TO CITRUS INDUSTRY.

Without exception, shippers of citrus fruits of Southern California last night declared the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission to be a victory for the industry, the effects of which will be directly reflected in a large measure in the pockets of producers and shippers alike, since the enormous savings to be effected by the handlers will be indirectly beneficial to the growers.

The actual cash significance of the reduction from $20 per car flat refrigeration rate to one of $7.50 per car is variously interpreted. With a shipment annually of an average of 25,000 pre-cooled or refrigerated cars, which is said to be a somewhat conservative estimate, the saving on the item of refrigeration charges now paid into the coffers of the railway will be nearly $600,000. In reflected values to the industry as a large, Commissioner Prouty's declaration will mean something like $1,000,000 a year to the citrus men.

The two-year "clause of the decision is not looked upon by the shippers as indicating a cessation of the conditions ordered at the end of that time. The presumption is merely that the commission does not care to undertake, at the present time, to make a decision which shall be effective beyond a legitimate time for ascertaining its exact effects. They express themselves as confident that the justice of their cause is so conclusively demonstrated that any future change will only increase their present advantage.

COMPETITION INSURED.

The victory in the long-fought fight does not, say the shippers, consist in the action on refrigeration proper so much as in making the rate no longer independent of railroad refrigeration by opening the way to precooling in the packing-houses and on their own account. The commission declares that the present refrigeration rates are not unreasonable and upholds the carriers in their asserted right to the exclusive performance of that duty but, at the same time, it makes it plain that the shipper can do away with refrigeration by doing his own precooling before the fruit is turned over to the carriers. In that event, moreover, say the shippers, the teeth are drawn from the "Frankenstein" of the commission's declaration that the railroad cannot charge for the use of specially constructed cars, except on the count of wear and tear.

Representatives of the California Citrus Union, the Semi-Tropic Fruit Exchange, the Southern California Fruit Exchange and the California Fruit Growers Exchange were practically at one in the assertion last night that full advantage of the possible substitution for refrigeration will be taken by their members. Precooling was declared by most to be, for the greater part, eminently practicable and feasible and its cost, by a fraction of that of refrigeration under the old system. It is strongly suggested, moreover, that the substitution will work a speedy and voluntary reduction of refrigeration charges by the competition which it will introduce.

WILL BUILD COOLERS.

G. H. Powell, general manager of the Citrus Protective League and one of the prime movers in the fight for lower rates made by the Arlington Heights Fruit Exchange for the California Fruit Growers' organization, gave it as his opinion that plans for precooling in all of the large packing-houses would be an immediate result of the decision. Precooling under the present system, he said, is practically so far as practiced, but that it was little used because of the arbitrary charges attaching to it.

UNKNOWN AMERICANS HELD AT TIA JUANA.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN DIEGO, Feb. 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Three American citizens are under military arrest at Tia Juana. According to statements made by President of Police Larroque, the men are to be given a hearing tomorrow. When the military autocrat refuses to give the names of the men under arrest he states that letters from Madero were found in their possession. Two arrested today, are well-dressed young men. Beyond that he would not reveal their identity.

The last engagement between the opposing factions of Mexican in Lower California is expected to take place at Tia Juana provided the Federal authorities can scrape together a sufficient force of patriots who will defend the hill against threatened attacks of the insurgents.

The building, being the only thing of apparent value left at Tia Juana that is anything like Mexican, has been fortified by throwing up banks of earth on all sides. The only building worth while is the roadhouse maintained by Frank Ecker, an American, who it is stated, is not losing much sleep over the problem of loss to property. At any rate, word has been received at Tia Juana that the main body of the successful rebels instead of pursuing Vega's followers to Ensenada will be defeated by "Pocahontas" on Tia Juana. To do this the rebels must travel over rough country, as the main highway from Calexico to Ensenada runs from Tia Juana to Tia Juana there is no road. Consequently, the invading army must blaze trails, climb mountains and wade through gorges. Notwithstanding this handicap, "On to Tia Juana" is the battle-cry.

Commander Larroque has called on all able-bodied loyal Mexicans to rally to the defense of the building. He looks for the insurgents to reach Tia Juana early Thursday morning. A telephone message from Tia Juana tonight states that Larroque has forty-two armed men.

INSURGENTS RAID SMALL BORDER TOWN.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
ANDRADE (Cal), Feb. 21.—Twenty-six insurgents from Mexico began shooting up Algodones, a small town just opposite here tonight. The Chief of Police was killed and a Mexican customs officer was seriously wounded. Bullets from the rifles of the rebels flying across the international boundary into Andrade, caused a panic among the inhabitants. Algodones is twelve miles from Yuma.

The rebels, said to be under the command of Capt. William Stanley, captured a train on the Inter-California Railway at Packard and hurried here. They began shooting immediately upon arriving.

Chief of Police Garzo fell dead at the first volley. The rebels then stormed the customhouse, of which Inspector Deland was in charge. Several bullets were fired. It is not known how serious his wounds are.

The capture of the customhouse and the killing of Garzo put to flight the entire police force, but did not result in a cessation of firing. The excited insurgents kept up volleys and a hail of bullets flew over the town. The delay will interfere materially with the progress of the work there and all the contractors were to have been supplied with barley from Pascualitas.

AGRICULTURAL BILL READY.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The agricultural appropriation bill was reported to the Senate today. It carries $18,500,000, an increase of $25,000 over the amount of the bill as passed by the House. The increases are to cover additional investigations desired in the matter of dry farming, stamping out the boll weevil in cotton, dissemination of weather information for the benefit of farmers, restoring the fire-fighting fund which has been exhausted, and for experimental work.

MODERN UTOPIA. REBELS' DREAM.

Mexican Revolution Taken as Means to an End.

Berthold and Leyva Disclose Their Real Plans.

Socialists and I.W.W. Lined Up in Its Support.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)
MEXICALI (Mex.), Feb. 21.—Independent of all other revolutionary movements or leaders in Mexico, the insurrection here is centered in a socialistic affair, the object being the establishment of a Utopia in Lower California, which, though born amid the singing of bullets, ultimately is to be a land of peace and brotherhood of men or money.

This was the assertion made for the first time today by both leaders of the insurgents, Leyva and Berthold. The success of the movement admittedly depends upon the results of the agitation and the support of socialists and the Industrial Workers of the World. Berthold said that the aid of both organizations had been sought by him last week when he secretly crossed the line and went to Los Angeles. Leyva, the self-styled leader of the "Army of Liberation," paved the way today for a manifesto of the real object and purpose of the movement when he stated that he recognized no superior among the other revolutionary leaders operating in Mexico.

Taft, president of the United States, and Capt. Conrad Babcock, commanding the United States cavalry, and Mayor Rockwood of Calexico, asserted frankly that the purpose of the revolution was to establish a socialistic commonwealth in Lower California, and where the man who works with his hands will be supreme. Tactical sentiments were echoed by the men of the army, a large majority of whom are Americans who claim affiliation with the I.W.W. and socialistic organizations.

NEW CENSORSHIP.

Simultaneously clamps were put on new sources and the Associated Press correspondence was informed by Berthold that the revolution is a socialistic organization, and as such would not receive answers to questions.

Leyva forthrightly denied that he had sent today a telegram to President Woodrow Wilson, and that he was being given Mexican Federalists to travel over American territory, although it was positively known that he had done so.

Leyva declared he was silent on the advice of American friends. One of these friends, seen often in the bull pen camp of insurgents, was John Kenneth Turner, the magazine writer, who is said to be establishing a socialistic commonwealth in Lower California, and where the man who works with his hands will be supreme.

Berthold's declaration was accompanied by a dictum to Capt. Babcock and Mayor Rockwood that the American forces were to be established in the future battles whether they wanted to or not.

The Red Cross has donated $1000 to the cause, he said. "We will take the money and use it to treat the wounded or let them die. We have no hospital facilities nor means of procuring them."

ON TO ENSENADA.

The scouting party sent out today reported the capturing of a train on the Inter-California Railway below Packard station, five miles south of Tia Juana. The train, which the rebels believed carried a small Federal force attempting to intercept the transporting of troops.

No trace of any large force of government troops was found, and relieved of any anxiety in that direction the insurgents will start their campaign on Ensenada tomorrow. Two more Federal dead were found today on the line of Vega's retreat about a mile and a half southeast of Ensenada, he declared. The bodies were half covered with mud and lay along the side of an irrigation canal, where they fell and were abandoned by their fleeing comrades. This makes the total Federal loss six killed.

Miguel Lira Lira, judge of the first instance in Lower California, who fled to Mexicali upon the approach of the insurgents, said tonight he had received official notice that Gov. Vega was not wounded in the battle last Wednesday. He also received official notice that the Mexican government had ordered troops to come and annihilate the rebel army at Mexicali.

"Vega was not wounded, nor was he defeated," said Judge Lira. "He merely came to Mexicali to procure information regarding the position of the outlaws there and he withdrew at my instigation, which was made at the instance of the American authorities who feared damage from flying bullets."

"I am officially informed that the so-called rebels will be caught between two fires, one from a body of troops which will come by way of Yuma, and the other from a second force now on its way from Santa Isabel, south of Ensenada. The movement has already started. Both bodies of troops are in motion. When they arrive no quarter will be given these outlaws. They will be treated as outlaws."

Private dispatches received in this city from Calexico last night state that the insurgents had seized an Inter-California train at Packard and cut out all the freight. They took one empty box-car and started presuming to go to Ensenada.

The freight cut out from the train that was seized was all for the government levee camp below the border and the delay will interfere materially with the progress of the work there and all the contractors were to have been supplied with barley from Pascualitas.

STATE CONTROL OF HARBORS.

is to control rates and you are not to control your revenues, are you to do that?"

Mott said he believed the legislative enactment would be such that the port could accomplish its purpose. Hewitt reiterated that Los Angeles could not see the Francisco in the same light and would stand by its right to fix its own rates. Senator Wright of San Diego also opposed the minimum rate.

"If we are to spend millions on wharves, docks, warehouses, dredging and highways to make this port we must have control of the charges of commerce," said Hewitt, in order to make the position of Los Angeles clear to the whole committee.

The impression created was that San Francisco is seeking to maintain State control over the rate fixing provision. It is this port into which San Diego and Oakland officials fell. By a minimum rate any competitive harbor would be bottled up and in addition the rates would become subject to annual revision in the Legislature. The minimum rate scheme is a makeshift to save the port from its monopoly of shipping through State aid to the harbor.

For some obscure reason McCarthy and his crowd did not appear to demand municipal control for San Francisco as had been promised. Probably the postponement of the Los Angeles hearing was the cause, and probably Wolfe intends to have there here Friday evening when the Los Angeles delegation is to be heard.

WILL FIGHT IT OUT.
According to proposals made yesterday by the San Francisco members, they are ready to withdraw the bill of Senator Cassidy ceding the State lands at San Francisco to the municipality if the "minimum charge" restriction is accepted by Los Angeles.

Of course Los Angeles will not entertain such a compromise. The members from the South, led by Hewitt are ready to accept the common with strict trust conditions for the public use of the lands, but will not accede to rate control.

That the "minimum rate" scheme is inimical in every way to the smaller ports was shown by Hewitt. "Who is to fix this rate?" asked Hewitt. "There is no board now in existence to do it and if it is to be two years, what a situation will be created? It means perpetual conflict."

Because of the large crowd expected from Los Angeles, the Judiciary Committee postponed its session Friday in the Senate chamber.

DIVORCE LAW REFORM.

Judge Walter Bordwell of Los Angeles Arrives in Capital to Further Pending Legislation.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Judge Walter Bordwell of the Los Angeles Superior Court, is expected here tomorrow to look after the reform divorce laws now pending.

H. H. Kinney and Ira A. Lee of Pomona, have arrived here with the new Pomona charter which Senator Thompson will ask approval of through a concurrent resolution tomorrow.

The Gates bill making the laws on negotiable instruments uniform with thirty-eight other States passed the Assembly this afternoon, and is now ready for the Governor's signature.

Assemblyman Benedict's bill permitting ninety-nine-year leases on real estate passed the Assembly this afternoon by a vote of 42 to 29.

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Cure

Ready and Cheaply Made at Home. Seven Yen 25.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50.

Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually stops the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. This is largely due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite, and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, asthma, bronchitis, etc.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 5 minutes. Put 1/2 ounces of pine oil (the purest) in a pint bottle, and add the sugar syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Pine is one of the oldest and best known remedial agents for the throat and chest. Pine is the most valuable concentrated compound of the resinous plant extracts, and the pine resin elements. Other preparations will work in this formula.

The present results from this recipe have caused the Walden household in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been initiated often, but the pine resin is a guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, given with this recipe. Your answer, please, or we will get it for you. If not, send to The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

COUNTY UNIT TO BE TRIED AGAIN.

LOCAL OPTION BILL WILL BE BROUGHT UP ONCE MORE.

Complicated Scheme of Procedure Hoped to Result in Passage of Measure—Several Senators Willing to Change Votes Rather Than Lose Legislation Altogether.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) After all, county unit option may not be lost. According to developments today, probably three senators will vote for it rather than end the session without any law. It is said this programme has been mapped out by the advocates of the county unit.

When the bill with the Judiciary amendment attached to the bill will be passed and sent to the Assembly for concurrence. The Assembly will promptly refuse. This will mean a conference committee, and as Speaker Hewitt and Lieut.-Gov. Wallace, president of the Senate, have the appointments and both are for the county unit, the conference will be friendly to the programme.

The conference is to be held to the programme. The conference is to be held to the programme. The conference is to be held to the programme.

Not to recede will mean no legislation at all. In such a case, Senator Stetson, who surprised all by his vote for the township unit, says he will vote for the county unit. There is also reason to believe that Senators Rush and Holahan will take the same course as Stetson. This will bring a vote at worst, and Wallace will be able to furnish the vote giving the bill its constitutional majority.

Hundreds of letters and telegrams are being received from all parts of the State on the option question. It is not expected that the conference will be able to report because of the time consumed in the Assembly this afternoon, and perhaps not until Monday. Ordinary tactics would prevent a report on Friday, as there are always absentees on that day, while Monday is a day of full attendance.

STATE SONG SENATE JOKE.

Bishop Bill Passes Second Reading—Need of Blacksmith Suggested.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The state song bill of Assemblyman Clyde Bishop of Santa Ana passed second reading in the Senate this afternoon, after Estadillo's motion that it be sent to a blacksmith for repairs was laughed down. What the Senate will do to it on final passage will be "a plenty" it is promised.

That Col. Garland had represented to him on January 9, 1911, that the Apex Coal Company owned a coal mine at Coos Bay, operated a line of steamers between Coos Bay and Portland, and owned a Consolidated Coal Company's stock, and $20,000 worth of government securities in the bank. Acting on these representations, and banking on the elegant business office owned by Garland, Boardman bought $1000 worth of stock without investigating the Garland representations.

Radicalism Proves Wearing as Steady Ration.

Progressives in Senate Rise and Sweat Hurd Bill.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Indications that the Legislature is getting sick of radicalism, even when backed by the "big stick," were present in both houses today. In the Assembly, Bennett's administration measure making the State Printer appointive and subject to removal at the pleasure of the Governor, passed by a vote of 45 to 32. This vote, in contrast with other votes of the Assembly on administration measures which have been overwhelming, indicates that there will be some doubt of getting the necessary two-thirds on the constitutional radicalism now pending.

In the Senate, about the same time, Hurd's bill giving the Attorney-General power to investigate the legality of papers of any corporation against which the State is proceeding judicially, was beaten 26 to 4. Only Hurd and two Democrats voted for the measure.

The action was chiefly interesting because Stetson and Cutten, administration leaders, gave notice that the limit of radicalism is to be reached by springing extreme measures. There is no need to search the codes of other States for every extreme measure in order to prove our progressiveness.

Stetson said his Judiciary Committee had been guilty of two crimes. One was in reporting Assemblyman Bishop's State song favorably and the other was a favorable report on the Hurd bill.

Then Senators Bell and Gates took a fall out of Hurd and his bill. According to the debate that followed, Hurd attended through his bill, to give the Attorney-General power to "jimmy" the safe of every corporation.

Hurd responded in a characteristic speech. The personality of the membership became so involved in the discussion, that the gavel had to restore parliamentary tactics.

Then the "progressives" unanimously snuffed Hurd and his bill.

Dog-in-the-Manger.

STATE UNIVERSITY ALUMNI FIGHT SOUTHERN TECHNOLOGICAL SCHOOL.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A fight on the bill proposing to take over Throop Polytechnic Institute as the foundation of the California Institute of Technology has been started by the Alumni Association of the University of California. Letters from J. R. Moffitt, president, and Milton T. Farmer, secretary, have been sent to all the members of the Legislature, conveying the intimation that it is a separate university scheme disguised, and ought to be ended.

Because of this fight President J. A. B. Scherer of Throop and Russ Avery, an alumnus of the University, are here to discredit the misrepresentation that it is a scheme for a Southern California university.

"Such a representation is a plain lie," is the way President Scherer put it tonight.

Of course the South knows that Scherer uttered the truth. For when the Throop scheme was proposed it meant at once that the South must forever abandon its hope for a second State university. The acceptance of the technical college project, possible by the philanthropy of the Throop Board of Trustees was a formal act of abandonment of the university plan.

Hard as it is to believe, the opposition of the Berkeley crowd is recognized as antagonistic to any educational independence in the South.

Fortunately the Alumni Association must repudiate President Benjamin

SENATE ADOPTS AMENDMENT TO PANAMA FAIR ENABLING BILL.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Thompson today offered and had adopted in the Senate without opposition the amendment to the Panama-Pacific bill (S. B. 1188), agreed to with the San Francisco elements through which the Governor is to give exhibitors the right to unpack without union domination.

Immediately after the amendment was adopted, Senator Wolfe demanded to know what it was.

Senator Thompson said it was an amendment that was agreed to by the author of the bill, Senator Birdsell.

"I am sorry that I did not understand it," said Wolfe, who had been inattentive for once. He was plainly peeved.

"I am not sure that the author of the bill understands what the amendment is," said he, turning to Birdsell.

"Do I understand that is a question addressed to me?" said Birdsell, rising abruptly. Wolfe said it was a question.

Then I answer that I do understand it," snapped Birdsell.

Thompson introduced the amendment after the Coghlan Committee on Municipal Corporations in the Assembly had reported the fair bill with the same amendment.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
RENO (Nev.) Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A telegram from Winnemucca indicates that Sheriff Ferrell of Reno, Sheriff Lamb of Winnemucca, and Sheriff Smith of Modoc county, California, Capt. Donnelly of the Nevada State police and other members of the posse are quite close to the renegade Indians who murdered Cambron, Indiana, Eramouse and Laxague, the Nevada stockmen, at Camp Dennis in January and it is possible that today they may meet.

This telegram stated that the trail had been found where the Indians had forded the Quinn River in northern Humboldt county, Nevada, and that a battle is expected. Another telegram from Capt. Donnelly of the State Police to Sheriff Lamb of Winnemucca read:

"Party of Indians who killed the sheepmen crossed the Black Rock desert fifty miles below here. Part of the posse is on their trail, others have crossed to get fresh horses, and will go out this morning. Believe Indians are in lower end of Jackson Mountain."

This message was taken by a horseman a distance of fifty miles to Ames and telegraphed in from there. Sheriff Lamb, on receipt of the telegram, immediately left for Sulphur, which will take him within thirty miles of the place where the Indians are now supposed to be hiding.

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 21.—Real estate experts were put on the stand by the defense today in the trial of Clarence D. Hillman, millionaire real estate dealer, accused of using the mail to defraud. The real estate men testified to the value of the property at Boston Harbor, and Birmingham, the two towns propositions, in connection with the promotion of which alleged frauds were committed. Most of Hillman's experts corroborated the testimony given by the government's experts earlier in the trial. The testimony showed the property which Hillman was selling for from $125 to $250 the thirty-foot lot, was worth from $50 to $200 the acre. The court will not be in session tomorrow because of Washington's birthday.

TERMINAL ISLAND CHANGE.

Protest of Property Owners Sent to War Department--Objections Probably Will Carry Weight.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 21. (Exclusive Dispatch.) Gen. W. H. Bixby, chief of engineers, has informed Senator Flint that the protest of J. A. Graves and seven others against the dumping of dredged material at the foot of Seventh street, Terminal Island, was referred to Lieut. Charles T. Leeds for report.

Lieut. Leeds has submitted a report under date of February 3 in which he says that the Los Angeles board of Public Works has revoked the permit for the pipe line, which was issued to the dredging contractor, and that no further action by the War Department appears to be necessary at this time.

Lieut. Leeds remarks that the United States, in its work of harbor improvement, can deposit dredgings outside high water mark without incurring liability; but that "whether it would be good policy in this case to change the beach is a question." He also says that the title land would belong to the state and not to the property owners who are protesting.

A prohibition against dumping on the shores of Terminal Island would increase the cost of the further improvement of Los Angeles harbor, as there is more material ultimately to be removed than can be accommodated on the surrounding reclaimable lands.

SENATOR-ELECT AT WASHINGTON.

FLINT TAKES WORKS TO SEE WHEELS GO 'ROUND.

Clad in Broad-Belted Stetson, California Gets Peep at Senate Doings--Meets Judge Short of Fresno and Gets Tip on Proper Headgear to Accompany Toga.

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 21. (Exclusive Dispatch.) Senator-elect Works came to town today. He said he was here merely to look around and get acquainted with some matters of routine he would have to learn about.

The new Senator called on Senator Flint, whom he will succeed March 4, and after telling him where he would be going for the messenger and other assistants allowed him, escorted him to the Senate Chamber, where he brought up Bristol, Cummins, Borah and other insurgent Senators, who shook hands with their new colleagues and chatted about matters interesting to them. Then, Root, Burrows and other regulars met the Californian who finally settled down to listen to Beveridge's speech on Lorimer in election, to hear which galleries were packed.

Works also called on Perkins and visited with him for some time. He had a short of Fresno and asked him if he was still working for the "interests."

"Are you still practicing law or are you now a full-fledged lobbyist?" asked the Senator-elect.

"Everything I have to say is said before the committee," replied Judge Short. "I see no reason why these matters cannot be handled with a law case."

Judge Works wore a broad-brimmed black Stetson. "You'll have to get a silk hat," Short told him. "You'll be arrested. I've been arrested several times already." Short was wearing a black derby and remarked, "Well, I see that Senator Flint is not wearing a silk hat."

Senator Flint discussed a number of matters with Judge Works, but the latter insisted that he was not intending to take any part in legislation unless there should be an extra session.

A memorial to Congress calling for a constitutional convention for the purpose of proposing an amendment to the Federal Constitution to provide for the selection of Senators by direct vote of the people was adopted in the Senate yesterday.

SHARP RAP AT PACIFIC MAIL.

San Franciscans Charge Cut-Throat Tactics.

Rates Via Panama Reduced to Kill Competition.

War Department Is Asked to Take a Hand.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. (Exclusive Dispatch.) An appeal has been made by the Merchants' Exchange of San Francisco to the Secretary of War to prevent the cutting of rates by the Pacific Mail in the evident effort to ruin the new competing line which has been hailed by Pacific Coast shippers as their savior from extortionate freight rates.

A peculiarity of the situation is the charge that both lines have been granting rebates to shippers in violation of law.

Sensors Flint and Perkins have interested themselves in the matter, which is now in the hands of Assistant Secretary of War Oliver, who is waiting for the return of Secretary Dickinson to the city before taking any action. It is stated at the War Department that something may be done Thursday. The telegram from the traffic manager of the Merchants' Exchange to Secretary Dickinson is as follows:

"The traffic bureau of the Merchants' Exchange of San Francisco, by unanimous vote of the board of governors, directs me to call your attention to the existing deplorable cut in rates on traffic from San Francisco to New York via Panama, inaugurated last week by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, the majority of whose capital stock has been and is now held by the Southern Pacific Company, the latter's president being also the president of the Pacific Mail."

"It is obvious that the present intention of this combination is to destroy a competing line which has given the shippers in the State a greatly improved service and at reasonable rates, resulting in a large increase in tonnage, to the advantage of the Panama Railroad Steamship Line, as well as to the shippers of both Coasts and, to a considerable extent, to the shippers of the interior of our country as well. This bureau strongly urges immediate administrative action that will prevent the railroad-owned steamship lines from destroying an independent competitor and thus relegating this important commercial freight route to its former condition of inactivity and practical uselessness to the shippers and producers of this State."

"We respectfully submit that through the government ownership of the Panama railroad and steamship line, the Pacific Mail's sole New York connection, the administration is in position to promptly restore traffic conditions via this route so that the permanent interests of the shippers will not be imperiled."

COLORADO RIVER RISING.

FEAR FOR IRRIGATION WORKS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 21. (Exclusive Dispatch.) Apprehension is felt here for the irrigation works on the lower Colorado River. Word has been received that the river is rising, and while it is not believed that there is any danger at present because the river is in the river, there is a belief that the treble should be removed in order that drift may not gather and cause damage. It is understood that Receiver Holstad is en route to Washington to put before the War Department the need of allowing the temporary dam to remain in the river until after the danger of high water is past.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. "Pork eaters" is a term which may be rightfully applied to the people of the United States, if the figures just made public by the Census Bureau for the year 1909 may be taken as a basis. The figures show that during that year 4,431,000 more hogs were killed in this country for food purposes than all other animals combined, including beefs, calves, sheep and lambs, goats, kids, etc.

During the year 1909, 24,442,000 hogs were killed for food, and 21,900,000 of all other animals.

The total number of animals slaughtered in the slaughter-houses and meat-packing establishments during 1909 is given as 63,043,000. These figures, however, do not represent the entire number of animals killed for food purposes during the period which the report covers, and the grand total can only be obtained, it is declared, upon completion of the statistics of agriculture.

The figures given come from 24,041 slaughter-houses, which include the large wholesale and meat-packing establishments as well as the abattoirs, incinerating establishments and fertilizer factories where dead animals are consumed.

The primary purpose of this census inquiry, it is said, was to determine the number of hides and skins available for the manufacture of leather. These cannot be completed until the statistics of agriculture are available, but the figures so far collected place the number at 25,573,000 available for hides. These figures are exclusive of hogs, from which skins are taken in a few instances.

PACIFIC COAST COAL FOR USE OF FLEET, CONGRESS DECREES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. (Exclusive Dispatch.) Congress decrees today that the fleet on the Pacific Coast must use coal mined on the Coast. Incidentally, Representative Mondell of Wyoming paid a high tribute to the fuel, and especially the oil, of the Coast. He said:

"There is no excuse for the Navy Department to exclude Pacific Coast coals from consideration in time of peace. The difference between them and the best Pocahontas coal is very slight and at least $1,000,000 a year could be saved by using them. More than 47,000,000 barrels of oil a year are produced in California and the entire Pacific fleet could be equipped to burn oil at a reasonable cost. California oil is the cheapest and best fuel for ships in the world, and it is being shipped around to the Atlantic Coast."

"The best steaming coal in the world," continued Mondell, "bar none, is in Alaska. If we were to have a war today our navy would be useless, because we have not enough coal on the Coast for the ships there. I hope

Woman Aged 116 Years Has Been Trapper Charge of Indiana County Since She Was Little Girl of Nine.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

RICHMOND (Ind.) Feb. 21. (Exclusive Dispatch.) A report made by County Infirmary Superintendent Brumfield of "the oldest pauper in the State," Mary Jane Wyle, aged 116, a county charge since she was 9 years old, has attracted wide interest among physicians.

When Wayne county was the hunting grounds of Indians, the woman and her brother, aged 9 and 8, respectively, were found in a forest near Hagerstown. The children were unable to identify themselves. The boy died soon after his rescue. Mary Jane was an imbecile and became the first inmate of the County Infirmary. The woman's mind is absolutely blank, and she has never been heard to speak a word.

She spends her time playing with two bones black with age.

DYNAMITE SUSPECT ARRESTED.

Chillicothe, Ohio, Police Hold Russian Jew Answering Description of David Kaplan.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHILLICOTHE (O.) Feb. 21. (Exclusive Dispatch.) A man believed to be David Kaplan, the Russian Jew wanted on a charge of dynamiting the Los Angeles Times Building last October, was arrested by Sheriff Stokes today at Chillicothe, west of this city, and is being held at the City Jail here, awaiting possible identification. When arrested he was peddling spades through the country. He gave his name as Isaac Sacks, and his residence as Columbus and Pittsburgh. Since his arrest he has refused to talk.

Salt Lake Plans Big Exhibit

Tons of Literature.

A contract was closed yesterday by Douglas White, industrial commissioner of the Salt Lake Railroad, whereby that corporation secured a large space for exhibition purposes at the Pacific Land and Products Exposition. White left last night for Utah for the purpose of assembling a splendid display from that State. Salt Lake City, Provo, Ogden, Springville and other places will be represented to good advantage in the exhibit from the Mormon section. Many of the leading men of Utah are already greatly interested in the land show.

This is Utah's great opportunity," said White, before his departure, "and I am certain that the advertising features of the big show will not be overlooked. The Salt Lake road will make a special effort to adequately display the resources of that marvellously rich commonwealth, and although it is not as a prophet I cannot resist predicting that Utah's exhibit will make a great hit with the colonists and other visitors to the show."

The California Wine Company of San Francisco, will be among the largest exhibitors. The space allotted to it was viewed yesterday by C. N. Harrison, the Los Angeles representative of the company. He expressed himself as pleased with the attention shown to his company by the exposition officials and promised that the display would be one of the decided attractions of the show.

Space for the booth of the Los Angeles Realty Board in Shrine Auditorium, has been selected by C. G. Andrews, chairman of the committee appointed for that purpose at the recent monthly meeting and dinner. The booth will be used for the distribution of tons of literature and general boosting literature to the 30,000 visitors expected at the land show.

Representative growers throughout the State are being invited by the Executive Committee to take part in a conference at the executive offices of the exposition, Grange building, next Saturday afternoon. The object of the conference is to arrange for the equitable display of the State's resources.

J. R. Loftis, the father of the cotton industry in the Imperial Valley, will confer with business men among the owners of that garden spot of the southland in reference to the details of the installation of a display showing the remarkable agricultural possibilities of the "American Nile" country.

WIFE AND CHILDREN FLEE IN AMTET TERROR.

Husband, Now Under Arrest, Was Evilly Influenced by Reading About Reynolds Murder. His Wife Alleges—Officers Are Informed He Wounded Son Short Time Ago.

Evilly influenced by the murder of Mrs. Charles F. Reynolds by her husband, Petrusche T. Gonales ran amok at Lankershim Thursday afternoon, and sought to slay his entire family with firearms, according to information which reached the District Attorney yesterday.

Mrs. Gonales and her four children saved their lives by a desperate struggle in which they disarmed the enraged man. They then fled for shelter when he recovered another weapon, and according to the statement of Deputy Constable Gragg.

Gonales was arrested yesterday on charge of having made an assault with attempt to murder. Later in the day the officials were informed that one of the prisoner's sons is now in the County Hospital suffering from a bullet wound which the father inflicted when Mrs. Gonales declared that there was nothing of consequence done to enrage her husband, but that he suddenly became violently angry and exclaimed:

"A white man just killed his wife! I'm going to clean out the whole bunch of you."

Horticultural Commissioner Who Sent Men to Inspect Haddock's Orchard Will Try to Have Him Arrested for Resisting an Officer. Wrestling With Problem.

Three horticultural inspectors are under arrest on charges of trespass and H. Haddock, a Lankershim rancher, may be taken in custody on a charge of having interfered with an officer in the discharge of his duty as a result of a dispute over spraying some fruit trees.

Inspectors Dupree, Stearns and Newton went to Haddock's place to treat some trees for scale. He warned them away, declaring that he had not been served with notice to the effect that his orchard was infected. They produced a deputy constable and returned to the orchard. Haddock again ordered them away. The officer made an effort to arrest him, but the rancher escaped on horseback. Haddock sought the services of an attorney and caused a complaint to be filed charging the inspectors with trespass. Yesterday members of the Horticultural Commission asked Deputy District Attorney Horton to issue a complaint charging Haddock with having interfered with an officer. The penalty for the offense may be $2000 and imprisonment in the penitentiary for two years.

Horton has taken the case under consideration in order that he may investigate all of the details.

HUNTING FOR RECRUITS.

Glee Club of Young Men's Christian Association Seeks to Enlist New Members and Offers Inducements.

The Glee Club of the Young Men's Christian Association has inaugurated a special class in advanced voice culture for men, which will meet every Wednesday night. They are anxious to secure additional members to the club, and are organizing a Beginners' Glee Club, to which they desire to call the attention of young men. They are particularly in need of tenor singers, and invite all men, singers and non-singers, to join the club. The club will meet on Wednesday evenings, in the music room at 7:45, following the class in voice culture.

The club is now planning another summer outing, like that taken to Yosemite Valley last summer, the expenses of which will be almost wholly paid from the funds of the club, which are accumulated by weekly dues of members and the annual dues of associate members. The excursion will be open to both men and women, and will be confined to members. The club will sing on next Friday evening, at the Trinity Methodist Church, at a concert given for the benefit of a destitute family. No admission will be charged, and an offering will be taken. Full particulars concerning the club may be had from J. Landrum Graham, in the association lobby.

OVERCOME BY GAS FUMES.

Young Man Partially Recovers But After Going to Work Collapses—Is Now in Hospital.

George Eagen, an employee of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company, was found partially overcome by gas in his room at No. 430 West Forty-seventh street early yesterday morning. He was taken to the County Hospital, where he is now recovering from the effects of the gas.

It is not definitely known how Eagen's room chanced to be filled with gas, but it is believed that the gas leaked from a faulty gas heater. He was found by his mother who was alerted by the odor of the gas in the hallway. He seemed to be recovering early yesterday morning and went to work as usual.

READY FOR BIG BANQUET.

Arrangements Perfected for the Annual Washington's Birthday Banquet of the Chamber of Commerce.

Arrangements have been practically perfected for the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce, to be held at Levy's Cafe this evening. It is the most successful affairs of the sort in the history of the organization. But few of the 500 tickets available remain to be disposed of and it is expected that they will be pre-empted long before the sale closes at noon today.

The annual function of the Chamber of Commerce is of importance far more than as such, inasmuch as it marks, officially, the expiration of the terms of the yearly officers and the inauguration of their successors. Special features of the programme will be the foreword address of President Joseph Scott and the inaugural of President-elect James H. Haddock. The other speakers, of whom there will be two, have not yet been definitely determined upon. The banquet proper will be preceded by a reception to the members, to be held in the reception hall adjoining the banquet hall, at 6:30 p.m. They will be received by a special committee and an hour will be spent in social "getting acquainted," before adjournment to the dining-room.

Lively Bidding When Buyers

Set the Pace.

Ten cars of Southern California oranges were sold at the first call of the Pacific Coast fruit auction on the Los Angeles Public Market yesterday morning. They brought cash, and prices ranged from 30 cents to $1.50 per box, according to the grade of the oranges.

About 300 fruit growers, brokers, commission men and others interested in citrus products, were on hand when the gavel in the hands of Llewellyn Banks called the gathering to order.

"It is in an endeavor to bring the selling of the fruit to the Pacific Coast, where it is produced, that the auction has been primarily established," he declared. "As the matter of handling citrus fruit now stands, the grower ships East and there have been many instances where he has not only lost the cost of fruit, but has even helped to 'pay the freight,' out of his own pockets."

"Such a system is all wrong, and the man who buys fruit in the East should take some of the chances. The eastern dealer, on the other hand, are more than willing to do this if they can conduct their business as they see fit, and not as terms are dictated to them."

He introduced Kenneth McLean, grower of this section, as "father" of the plan. McLean explained that he had been losing money on his crop because of the long delay after the sale had been made, and also because the method employed in distributing the fruit through the East. He said he could see no reason why the base of the market should not be at the growing point rather than in New York, as is the present case.

Charles A. Waterman of Pasadena, the oldest fruit auctioneer in the country, was introduced. After announcing the method of sale, conditions accompanying each trade and other matters, he proceeded to offer a car of oranges for sale. The auctioneer, Kelly Company for $1.50, the highest price paid during the morning.

The first car was purchased after a desultory bidding, by Stahndorf & Kelly Company for $1.50, the highest price paid during the morning. The second car, the fourth at $1.35 and so on through the list. Twenty cars were sold in the morning. The third car was sold and will remain as a permanent auctioneer of the company.

There will be three auctions a week hereafter, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings at 10 o'clock. The terms of sales are a demand draft, payable in twenty days after the date of the auction, and upon attachment to bill of lading showing that the fruit is ready for immediate shipment.

LABOR MARKET

IN THE ISLANDS.

GOVERNMENT COMMISSIONER

SAYS THERE IS A DEARTH.

Hawaiian Sugar Planters Have Difficulty Obtaining Help for Great Plantations, and Immigration Department Has Taken Up the Question to End Present Conditions.

Victor S. Clark, Territorial Census Commissioner for Hawaii, arrived at the Alexander yesterday on the last leg of a three-month trip through Cuba, Mexico and certain parts of the United States where he investigated trade, labor and health conditions. He will go back to Hawaii within a few days and sail for home.

Clark holds a unique position for Uncle Sam in the island possessions. Aside from his duties as Census Commissioner for Hawaii, he is the representative of the United States Immigration Department and the Department of Health.

Prior to going to the islands, Mr. Clark called Washington, D. C., his home. He has been in the government service for the last ten years, and gained valuable experience in the immigration and census departments. He was part of his government service, has been in the role of investigator. After the Spanish-American war he was detailed at Havana where he made an exhaustive investigation into the health and industrial conditions. In the same capacity he was sent to Porto Rico, and later to Mexico.

From the Philippines, he was sent to Hawaii. At first his duties consisted of investigating the trade and labor conditions for the Immigration Department. Later he was detailed to make an exhaustive report on the health conditions in the islands. He was well able to perform his duties that he was made Territorial representative of the Immigration Department, and this was closely followed by his appointment as Territorial Census Commissioner.

"The dearth of labor in Hawaii and neighboring islands is our greatest trouble," said Mr. Clark yesterday at the Alexander. "Not only during the years that I have been in and about Honolulu has the labor market been safe. Every effort has been made by the sugar planters and the government to import labor for the vast plantations, but without success. The Japanese are too troublesome—the Russians cannot acclimate themselves to the climate and the English do not suit for the same reason. Mexicans are too slothful, and Americans will not work for the wages offered."

The Immigration Department, however, has taken the matter up now, and before long we hope that a sufficient number of laborers will arrive in the islands and put an end to the present unsatisfactory conditions."

LAWYERS MAIN EVENT.

Preliminaries Supplied by Two More Attorneys, and a Woman, Her Men Friends and a Private Detective—Queer Case of Japanese Alleged Labeled Dismissed.

The interference of Referee Jack Adams, who is ex-officio court bailiff by virtue of his office as deputy constable, prevented any knockouts.

The main event was staged with Attorneys Smyser and J. R. Holly as the principals. Holly's son had served the notice in a civil case and had not strictly complied with the law. This made necessary the postponement of the action.

Holly, who formerly exhorted congregations as a minister of the gospel, was a bit irritated and made a caustic remark.

"You're a dirty liar," was Smyser's retort, in a loud tone, according to court attaches.

The two disciples of Blackstone advanced toward each other as though to engage in deadly combat. Adams hastened to get between them. He felt the breeze at Smyser's fist shot out. The lawyers were separated, Smyser being told to wait within the court, while Holly was sent down the street. The latter did not leave until he had been told to wait within the court.

Former Justice Pierce and Attorney Allen engaged in a wordy war which was not so much a verbal contest as a charge of criminal libel. Pierce assisted the prosecution in a trial of a Japanese newspaperman on a charge of criminal libel. He was alleged to have seriously injured one of his countrymen by declaring he was a work in a lousy basket. The magistrate did not think the expression warranted punishment and released the defendant.

Pierce and Allen, who represented the defendant, then became engaged in a war of words. No damage was done except to a table which bore the brunt of having been brought heavily down on it.

A few seconds later there was a disturbance at the courtroom door. Constable Lyons, who has established a reputation as a pacificator in matrimonial matters, hastened out of his office, as he saw there was a woman in the case.

It developed that she had caused her husband to be arrested on a charge of assault and battery. A private detective was trying to elicit information from her before the case was called, and some of her men friends offered to do him bodily harm.

The outbreak in Mexico has interfered with the operations of Chinese coolie smugglers and has indirectly led to the discovery that a plan was on foot to send into this State a horde of Orientals.

There has come to the attention of the immigration authorities that Mexico is overrun with coolies, who have been brought over from China for the purpose of importing them into this country in defiance of the laws.

When the immigration officers recently became an active campaign against smuggling, the importations by the coolies were stopped. The coolies were transported across the border by the sea. It was thought that the conspirators had decided that it was too dangerous to attempt to move their coolies by land, but it was practical that they were merely seeking to allay the suspicions of the Federal authorities.

Quietly, hundreds of laborers were congregated in hiding places near the border. There was a concerted plan to await for a favorable opportunity, and then to cross the border, and out into the Celestials became frightened. They would have made a break into this country without any guide, but the government hurried its troops to the border to preserve the neutrality laws.

Out of the border, which were cast to shift for themselves, fifty-five applied in one body for permission to camp on this side of the border until the trouble is over. They were allowed to camp across the line, it was found that they were practical pennies. They were immediately led back to Mexico and were warned to not attempt to run the gauntlet.

Political Equality League Will Treat Suspects and Deniers There With Speeches, Smiles and Ties.

After this week persons who are seen leaving the Auditorium will be held under grave suspicion. Even though they may be guiltless of anything else, it will be known that they have come under a desperate influence. The Political Equality League has rented Choral Hall, Auditorium building, and has a suite of offices adjoining this hall.

In the future the public will be invited to come to this place and hear the peridious doctrine of equal suffrage for women. Nothing is ever said at these meetings about the rights of men because they are supposed to have few, and the women are after what they have.

It is the plan of the league as soon as it is satisfactorily located in its new quarters to hold public meetings regularly for the arrest and conviction of those not yet converted to the enfranchisement of women. Persons suspected of any intention of opposing the equal suffrage amendment to the State Constitution will be treated with speeches, smiles and tea. If any man is brave enough to turn down the smiles he is a person of no influence in the community anyway.

PRICELESS FIGHT BETWEEN TWO

LAWYERS MAIN EVENT.

Preliminaries Supplied by Two More Attorneys, and a Woman, Her Men Friends and a Private Detective—Queer Case of Japanese Alleged Labeled Dismissed.

Justice Summerfield's courtroom was the scene of a realistic sparring exhibition yesterday, with a main event and two preliminaries.

The interference of Referee Jack Adams, who is ex-officio court bailiff by virtue of his office as deputy constable, prevented any knockouts.

The main event was staged with Attorneys Smyser and J. R. Holly as the principals. Holly's son had served the notice in a civil case and had not strictly
